(3) The appropriate review body may also impose conditions on the person’s registration or alter the conditions to which the person’s registration is to be subject to under the reinstatement order.

(4) The board must make the recordings in the register necessary to give effect to a reinstatement order.

36.(1) Subject to this Act, the board may refer to the tribunal for investigation and determination any question as to the conduct or qualifications of any medical practitioner (including any specialist) which, in the opinion of the board, requires investigation in the public interest.

- (d) is guilty of misconduct in a professional respect;

it may proceed to have the medical practitioner concerned charged accordingly before the tribunal and, upon so doing, shall have the conduct of the charge as prosecutor.

(1A) However, the tribunal shall not order that the name of any medical practitioner (including any specialist) be erased from the register under subsection (1)(a) or (b) except with respect to a withdrawal or cancellation of a qualification or an erasure of a registration which, if it had occurred in Queensland, would have been an adequate cause for the erasure of the name of the medical practitioner concerned from the register.

(2) Any person aggrieved by any alleged misconduct in a professional respect of a medical practitioner (including a specialist) may make a complaint to the board with respect thereto.

(3) Upon a complaint made to it under subsection (2) the board shall investigate such complaint and, without limiting its powers to so investigate, may—

(4) If upon such investigation the board is of opinion that the evidence has sufficiently established a prima facie case, it shall proceed to charge the person concerned before the tribunal according to the complaint.

(5) If upon such investigation the board is of opinion that the evidence has not sufficiently established a prima facie case it shall dismiss the complaint.

(6) Notwithstanding anything contained in this section, when the Governor in Council directs that the subject matter of any such complaint is to be heard and determined by the tribunal, such direction shall prevail and the tribunal and the board shall give effect thereto.

(7) The tribunal may hear and determine any charge notwithstanding that any complaint relating to the subject-matter thereof has been dismissed by the board.

When board may impose disciplinary punishment

37A.(1) Where, upon investigation, the board is of opinion—

Medical Act 1939

- (a) that a medical practitioner has been guilty of any misconduct in a professional respect or of any other charge which may be made against that medical practitioner before the tribunal under this Act; and
- (b) that the import of the misconduct or matter of the other charge in question, while not sufficiently serious to warrant the board charging the medical practitioner concerned therewith before the tribunal, nevertheless warrants disciplinary action;

then, subject to this section, the board in lieu of charging the medical practitioner concerned before the tribunal, may according as it shall deem just in the circumstances—

- (c) order that the medical practitioner pay to the board by way of a pecuniary penalty such sum not exceeding 30 penalty units as it shall specify;
- (d) reprimand the medical practitioner;
- (e) adjourn the matter of dealing with the medical practitioner under this subsection for such period not exceeding 12 months as the board thinks fit;

(1AA) Where the board deals with a medical practitioner under subsection (1) it may in addition to any order made by it order that the medical practitioner pay such costs of the investigation as are prescribed.

(1AAB) The provisions of section 41(5) to (8) shall apply with respect to pecuniary penalty imposed by the board under this subsection.

(1A) When the board adjourns the matter of dealing with a medical practitioner for a period under subsection (1)(e), the board shall reconsider the matter at the end of that period, taking into consideration the conduct, demeanour and behaviour of such medical practitioner during the period of such adjournment and then may take any of the steps provided by subsection (1) (excluding paragraph (e)) or take no further action.

(2) Before dealing with a medical practitioner under this section the board shall notify the medical practitioner in writing of its intention so to deal with the medical practitioner and shall state in that notice—

Medical Act 1939

- (a) the misconduct in a professional respect or matter of the other charge whereof the medical practitioner is guilty in the opinion of the board; and
- (b) a time not earlier than 14 days after the date of that notice within which the medical practitioner may make representations in writing to the board, or a time not earlier than 14 days after the date of that notice at which the medical practitioner may appear in person and be heard by the board at a place stated in the notice; and
- (c) that the medical practitioner may elect, in writing given to the board within the time referred to in paragraph (b), to be dealt with by the tribunal in lieu of the board.

(2A) The board and the medical practitioner concerned may in writing agree to waive the foregoing requirements of subsection (2) whereupon the board may deal with the medical practitioner without regard to that subsection.

(3) In dealing with a medical practitioner under this section, the board shall give due consideration and weight to any representations in writing made to it by the medical practitioner within the time allowed by the notice in writing under subsection (2) (if any) and shall hear the medical practitioner if the medical practitioner appears in person before it pursuant to that notice.

(4) Where within the time allowed in his or her case by the notice under subsection (2), a medical practitioner elects in writing given to the board to be dealt with by the tribunal in lieu of the board, the board shall not deal with the medical practitioner under this section.

(5) Where the board has dealt with a medical practitioner under the provisions of subsection (1), the board may order that the medical practitioner pay to the board by way of costs such sum of money as it thinks fit.

(4A) A claim by a medical practitioner pursuant to subsection (4) that the medical practitioner is not obliged to make the answer or to furnish the information required of the medical practitioner shall not be effectual unless it is substantiated in writing to the board in accordance with directions given by the board under subsection (2) in relation to the requisition in question.

88.(1) A person who was registered as a medical practitioner immediately before the commencement of this section is taken to be registered under this Act.

(2) The person's registration under this Act is taken to be subject to the same limitations (as to time or otherwise) and conditions (if any) to which it was subject to immediately before the commencement of this section.

Meaning of "foreign medical practitioner"

89. In this part—

"foreign medical practitioner" means a medical practitioner who is not a graduate of a medical school accredited by the Australian Medical Council and who has not successfully completed examinations held by the council for the purposes of registration as a medical practitioner.

Grounds for deregistration

90.(1) For the purposes of this part, a foreign medical practitioner is liable to deregistration unless the practitioner was—

- (a) unconditionally registered, domiciled and practising medicine in Australia on 31 January 1992; or
- (b) unconditionally registered and had practised medicine in Australia for 3 out of the last 6 years before 31 January 1992; or
- (c) unconditionally registered and had practised medicine in Australia for a total of 6 years before 31 January 1992.

(2) A medical practitioner is considered to have been unconditionally registered in Australia at a particular time if the medical practitioner is or was registered at the time under this Act, or licensed or registered as a medical practitioner under the law in force in another State or a Territory, without condition or limitation on the entitlement to practise medicine.

Board's duty to deregister practitioners liable to deregistration

91.(1) If the board is of the opinion that a foreign medical practitioner is or may be liable to deregistration under this part, the board must, by written notice to the practitioner, require the practitioner to establish, to the satisfaction of the board, that the practitioner is not liable to deregistration.

(2) The board must remove the name of the practitioner from the register if the practitioner fails to satisfy the board that the practitioner is not liable to deregistration.

(3) Subsection (2) does not apply if the board is of the opinion that there is good reason why the practitioner's name should not be removed.

(4) The board is to give a foreign medical practitioner who is liable to deregistration an opportunity to make submissions to the board on the question of whether the practitioner's name should be removed from the register and the board is to consider any such submissions.

(5) The board must give the practitioner concerned written notice of action taken by the board under this part and the action does not take effect until the notice is given.

(6) A person whose name has been removed from the register under this section may appeal to the tribunal against the removal.

Special provision for practitioners removed for non-payment of fees

92.(1) This section applies to a foreign medical practitioner whose name has been removed from the register for failure to pay the annual registration fee.

(2) A practitioner to whom subsection (1) applies has the entitlement to be re-registered that would otherwise be conferred by payment of the unpaid fees (together with any restoration fee that is payable) only if the practitioner satisfies the board that—

- (a) the practitioner is not liable to deregistration under this part; or
- (b) there is good reason why the practitioner should not lose the entitlement to re-registration.

Registration with conditions

93. The board may register a foreign medical practitioner as a medical practitioner with conditions if, immediately before the commencement of this section, the person—

- (a) was domiciled in Australia; and
- (b) was, and still is, practising medicine in Australia; and
- (c) held provisional registration that was granted by the board after 31 January 1992.

Consideration in respect of certain criteria

94. The board may register a foreign medical practitioner as a medical practitioner if the person—

Regulations in force under previous s 5

Transitional provision about forms

97.(1) This section applies if—

- (a) immediately before its commencement, there was a prescribed form for the matter; and
- (b) on the commencement, there is to be an approved form for the matter or a form may be approved for the matter.

(2) Until there is an approved form for the matter, the form that was the prescribed form for the matter immediately before the commencement is taken to be the approved form for the matter.

(3) This section expires 6 months after it commences.
