“mediation” see section 90.

“mediator” means a mediator approved under section 93.

“mentally ill person” means a person who has been declared by the Supreme Court or a judge thereof to be mentally ill and incapable of managing the person’s estate, and any person who is otherwise a patient as defined in the Mental Health Act 1974, schedule 5, schedule 5 and any person who, on the trial of any indictment, has been acquitted on the ground of insanity, or who, on arraignment on any indictment, has been found by a jury to be insane, and who in either case is still in confinement.

- (a) in part 7, means a party to a dispute; and
- (b) elsewhere (other than part 9), includes a person served with notice of or attending a proceeding, although not named in the record as a party to the dispute.

“referring court”, of a mediation or case appraisal, means the District Court that referred the action to mediation or case appraisal.

“referring order” means an order made under section 97 referring a dispute to an ADR process.

“registrar” means a registrar of a District Court, and includes a deputy registrar of a District Court.

“rules” means rules of court under this Act.

PART 2—COURTS, JUDGES, REGISTRIES AND OFFICERS

Division 1—Courts

Appointment of District Courts

4.(1) A regulation may declare that courts, to be called District Courts, are to be held at specified places.

(2) A regulation may change the place for holding a District Court, or provide that the holding of a District Court be discontinued.

Assignment of districts

5.(1) A regulation may assign to any District Court a district, which shall consist of a Magistrates Courts district, or 2 or more contiguous Magistrates Courts districts.

(2) When the holding of a Court is discontinued, all proceedings pending in the court shall be transferred to and continued in such other Court as a regulation may direct, and all records of the court, the holding of which is discontinued, shall be transferred to such other court.

Courts to be courts of record

6. Every District Court shall be a court of record and shall have criminal and civil jurisdiction as provided by this Act.

Limits of the jurisdiction

7. Every District Court shall have jurisdiction throughout the whole of Queensland.

Seal of the Court

8. For every Court there shall be a seal and notices, summonses, certificates, warrants and other process, issued by the registrar shall be sealed or stamped with the seal.

Division 2—Judges

Appointment and qualification of Judges

9. The Governor in Council may, by commissions in Her Majesty's name, appoint judges of District Courts, each of whom shall be a barrister or solicitor of the Supreme Court of Queensland of not less than 5 years standing.

Chief Judge and senior judges

10.(1) The Governor in Council may, by commission, appoint—

- (a) a District Court judge as Chief Judge of District Courts; and
- (b) 1 or more District Court judges as senior judge or senior judges of District Courts.

(2) The Governor in Council may, by gazette notice, appoint a judge to act as Chief Judge or a senior judge during any period, or all periods, when the Chief Judge or senior judge is, for any reason, unable to discharge the judge's office.

Travelling expenses

11. A judge shall be entitled to receive the same allowances by way of travelling expenses as are payable to a judge of the Supreme Court.

Leave of absence

12. The Governor in Council may grant leave of absence to a judge.

Judges not to practise or sit in Parliament

13. A judge shall not practise as a barrister, solicitor or notary, or be directly or indirectly concerned or interested in such practice, and a judge shall not be capable of being summoned or being chosen as a member of the Legislative Assembly.

Retirement of judges

14.(1) A judge must retire on reaching 70 years of age.

(2) Despite subsection (1), a judge who, before attaining 70 years of age, starts the hearing of a proceeding remains a judge for the purposes of finishing the proceeding.

(3) Subsection (2) does not prevent the filling of the judge's office from any time after the judge attains 70 years of age and, for that purpose, the judge's office is taken to be vacant from that time.

Removal from office

15.(1) The Governor in Council may remove a judge for incapacity or misbehaviour.

(2) However, 21 days at the least before removal, the judge shall receive notice of the intention to remove the judge, and the judge shall thereafter and before removal have the opportunity of being heard before the Governor in Council in the judge's defence.

Retirement of judge

16. Without prejudice to the power of the Governor in Council contained in section 15 hereof, if and when the chief health officer (of the department in which the Health Services Act 1991 is administered) and a duly qualified medical practitioner nominated by the president for the time being of the Queensland Branch of the Australian Medical Association shall certify to the Treasurer that by reason of permanent disability or infirmity a judge is unable to perform the duties of the judge's office the Governor in Council may, after affording the judge an opportunity of being heard, retire the judge and thereupon the office of such judge shall become vacant and the judge shall cease to be a judge.

Acting judge

17.(1) The Governor in Council may appoint (by commission in Her Majesty's name) a person qualified to be appointed a District Court judge to be an acting judge—

- (a) during the absence on leave, granted by the Governor in Council, of a judge; or
- (b) if a judge be absent from any other cause or is incompetent or unable to take part in any decision or in any trial, action or proceeding or to sit at any sittings of a Court; or
- (c) if for any reason whatsoever the conduct of the business of a Court or the Courts in the opinion of the Governor in Council requires such an appointment.

(2) An acting judge appointed under subsection (1) shall, during the time for which the acting judge is appointed, have all the powers and privileges and perform the duties of a judge.

Governor in Council may assign Courts to each Judge

18. The Governor in Council may, by gazette notice, assign to a judge, either permanently or in rotation with other judges, such Courts as the Governor in Council thinks fit, but the jurisdiction of a judge shall not be deemed thereby to be limited exclusively to the Courts so assigned to the judge.

Judge empowered to act throughout the State

19. Every judge appointed shall be appointed for the whole of the State and shall, under the judge's commission, be empowered to act in any District Court.

Judge to hold Court where directed, and to give notice

20.(1) The judge to whom a court is assigned shall attend and hold the court at the place appointed by the Governor in Council at such times as are appointed by the judge with the approval of the Attorney-General, but so that a Court is held in the place once at least in such interval as the Governor in Council directs.

(2) Notice of the days on which the court is appointed to be held shall be put up in a conspicuous place in the court house and in the office of the registrar, and shall be otherwise published as the judge directs.

(3) When, by reason of the absence of the judge, the court can not be held at the time appointed, the registrar, or, in the event of the registrar's absence, the bailiff, shall adjourn the court to such day as the registrar or the bailiff deems convenient, and shall enter in the minute-book the cause of the adjournment.

Adjournment within district

21. Despite sections 4(1) and 20 and any other provision of this Act, when any action, matter or proceeding is pending or is being heard in a District Court in its civil or criminal jurisdiction at any place, the judge to whom the court is assigned may order that the hearing be adjourned from that place to some other place within the same district, if the judge determines that on the balance of convenience the adjournment should be ordered.

Judge may sit in chambers

22. A judge may sit in chambers at any time and at any place, whether that place is within or not within the district of the Court in which the action or proceeding is pending.

Jurisdiction in chambers

23. Subject to the rules of court, a judge may exercise in chambers any jurisdiction of a District Court, except the trial of actions, appeals and the hearing of applications for new trials.

Certain causes and matters not affected by determination of commission

24. If at the determination by effluxion of time or other cause of any commission under this Act there shall be any actions or matters, civil or criminal, including any appeal, partly heard or standing for judgment by or before the holder of such commission, the commission shall only for the purpose of deciding such actions or matters (including the completion of the hearing thereof where necessary) and so far as is necessary for that purpose, remain in force until judgment shall have been delivered therein unless the holder of that commission shall be sooner removed.

Hearing de novo when trial judge unable to continue

25.(1) When after the commencement of the hearing of any action or matter, civil or criminal, including any appeal before a judge, but before judgment in the action or matter has been given, the judge dies or becomes incapable of continuing to sit or, in the case of an action or matter which has been heard but judgment wherein has not been given, of giving the judge's judgment, any party to the action or matter may, upon giving 7 days notice to the other party or parties, apply to a judge for an order that the action or matter may be heard and determined de novo.

(2) On an application under this section to a judge (or in the absence of a judge to a judge of the Supreme Court) that judge—

- (a) (if this section is applicable, in the action or matter, by reason of the incapacity of a judge), may, according as the judge deems fit, either adjourn the action or matter as the judge deems necessary, in order to enable the judge before whom the hearing thereof was commenced to give judgment and, if necessary for that purpose, to complete the hearing, or order the action or matter to be heard and determined de novo; and
- (b) in any other case shall order the action or matter to be heard and determined de novo.

(3) When, pursuant to this section, an action or matter is heard and determined de novo—

- (a) the judge so hearing or determining the same may make such order as to the costs of the first hearing as the judge shall think fit; and
- (b) the first hearing shall for all purposes, other than that set out in paragraph (a) be deemed a nullity.

Proof of incapacity of judge

26. When proof of the incapacity of a judge is necessary for a purpose of the last preceding section, the certificate of the Chief Justice that such judge is incapable as specified in the certificate shall be prima facie evidence of that fact.

Judge may perform the duties of another judge

27. In the case of absence or disability of a Judge, or on an emergency, another judge may, at the request in writing of the firstmentioned judge or of the Chief Justice, sit either in court or in chambers for the first mentioned judge, and may exercise all the powers and perform all the duties which that judge might have exercised or performed.

Removal of action only in manner provided by this Act

28. A judgment given by a judge, or an action or matter brought before the judge or depending in the judge's court, shall not be removed by appeal, motion, writ of error or certiorari, or otherwise into another court, save and except in the manner and according to the provisions of this Act.

*Division 3—Prerogative writsWhen action may be removed

29.(1) When any action, matter or proceeding is pending in a District Court in its civil or criminal jurisdiction or when any accused person has been committed for trial to a District Court, the Supreme Court or a judge thereof shall, upon application by the Crown, in a criminal matter or proceeding or in any action or civil proceeding in which the Crown is a party and may, if it or the judge thinks it desirable, upon the application of any interested person, direct a writ of certiorari to be issued for removing such action, matter or proceeding into the Supreme Court or a Circuit Court or recommit the accused person for trial to the Supreme Court or a Circuit

Court¹.

(2) The Supreme Court or judge may impose such terms as to payment of costs, giving security for costs or otherwise as it or the judge thinks fit and it or the judge may make such orders as to remand custody and bail and in respect of the notices to witnesses or otherwise as it or the Judge shall think fit.

Rule or order substituted for writ of mandamus to a judge or officer

30. A writ of mandamus shall not be issued to a judge or an officer of a District Court requiring the judge or officer to do any act relating to the duties of his or her office, but a party requiring the act to be done may apply to the Supreme Court or a judge thereof, upon an affidavit of the facts, for a rule or summons calling upon the judge or officer of the District Court, and also the party to be affected by the act, to show cause why the act should not be done, and if after the service of the rule or summons good cause is not shown, the Supreme Court or a judge thereof may, by rule or order, direct the act to be done, and the judge or officer of the District Court shall, upon being served with the rule or order, obey it under pain of attachment, and in any event the court or judge may make such order with respect to costs as to the court or judge seems fit.

Certain prerogative writs not to be issued

41.(1) The prerogative writs of mandamus, prohibition or certiorari are no longer to be issued by the court.

(2) If, before the commencement of this Act, the court had jurisdiction to grant any relief or remedy by way of a writ of mandamus, prohibition or certiorari, the court continues to have the jurisdiction to grant the relief or remedy, but must grant the relief or remedy by making an order, the relief or remedy under which is in the nature of, and to the same effect as, the relief or remedy that could, but for subsection (1), have been granted by way of such a writ.

(3) In an enactment in force immediately before the commencement of this Act, a reference to a writ of mandamus, prohibition or certiorari is taken to be a reference to an order of a kind that the court is empowered to make under this section.

Judge not to be served with notice of application for prohibition

31.(1) When an application is made to the Supreme Court or a judge thereof for a writ of prohibition addressed to a District Court, the judge of the District Court shall not be served with notice, and shall not, except by the order of a judge of the Supreme Court, be required to appear or be heard on the application, and shall not be liable to any order for the payment of the costs thereof, but the application shall be proceeded with and heard in the same manner in all respects as a case of an appeal duly brought from a judgment of a judge.

(2) Notice of the application shall be given to or served upon the same parties as in the case of an order made or refused by a judge in a matter within the judge's jurisdiction.

Rule or summons to show cause why a writ of certiorari or prohibition should not be issued to be a stay of proceedings

32. The granting by the Supreme Court, or by a judge thereof, of a rule or summons to show cause why a writ of certiorari or of prohibition should not be issued to a District Court, shall, if the Supreme Court or a judge thereof so directs, operate as a stay of proceedings in the action to which the same relates until the determination of the rule or summons, or until such court or judge otherwise orders, and the judge of the District Court shall, from time to time, adjourn the hearing of the action to such day as the judge thinks fit, until the determination or until such order is made.

Notice of rule or summons to be given to registrar and parties

33. If a copy of the rule or summons is not served by the party who obtained it on the opposite party, and on the registrar of the District Court, at least 2 clear days before the day fixed for the hearing of the action, the judge of the District Court may order the party who obtained the rule or summons to pay the costs of the day, or so much thereof as the judge thinks fit, unless the Supreme Court or a judge thereof has made a different order respecting such costs.

Notice of writ of certiorari or prohibition obtained ex parte to be given to registrar and parties

34. When a writ of certiorari or of prohibition addressed to a District Court is granted by the Supreme Court or a judge thereof on an ex parte application, and the party who obtained it does not lodge it with the registrar, and give notice to the opposite party that it has been issued, at least 2 clear days before the day fixed for hearing the action to which it relates, the judge of the District Court may order the party who obtained the writ to pay all the costs of the day, or so much thereof as the judge thinks fit, unless the Supreme Court or a judge thereof has made a different order respecting such costs.

Division 4—RegistriesRegistry etc.

35.(1) In this section—

“District Court registry” means the office of the registrar of a District Court.

(2) Unless or until otherwise prescribed, where a central registry or a district registry of the Supreme Court exists in a city or town where pursuant to the provisions of this Act a District Court shall be held, such central registry or district registry, as the case may be, shall be a District Court registry.

(3) When a central registry or district registry is also a District Court registry then subject to this Act the registrar or district registrar, deputy registrar, bailiff and other officers of the Supreme Court at that city or town and any persons hereafter either permanently or temporarily holding those offices shall be, without any further appointment than by this Act, officers (in their several offices) respectively of the District Court at that place for all the purposes of this Act and shall have all the powers, jurisdictions, authorities and duties conferred or imposed upon the holders of such respective offices under this Act.

(4) Unless or until otherwise prescribed where a central registry or a district registry of the Supreme Court does not exist in a city or town where pursuant to the provisions of this Act a District Court shall be held, but a Magistrates Court does exist in that city or town, then the registry of the Magistrates Court at that city or town shall be the District Court registry at that place.

(5) Subject to this Act, the registrar of the Magistrates Court in that city or town and the deputy registrar, bailiff and other officers of that court, and any persons hereafter either permanently or temporarily holding those offices, shall be, without any further appointment than by this Act, officers (in their several offices) respectively of the District Court at that place for all the purposes of this Act and shall have all the powers, jurisdictions, authorities and duties conferred or imposed upon the holders of such respective offices under this Act.

Division 5—Officers

Appointment and salary of registrar and deputy registrars

36. For every Court the Governor in Council may appoint a registrar and such deputy registrars and such other officers as the Governor in Council shall think fit, who shall be paid such salary as the Governor in Council may determine.

Duties of registrar

37. The registrar shall sign and issue summonses and warrants and register the records and judgments, and keep minutes of the proceedings of the court, and shall take charge of and keep an account of the court fees and fines payable or paid into court, and of the moneys paid into and out of court, and shall enter an account of the fees, fines and moneys, in a ledger kept by the registrar for that purpose, and shall, when required, submit the registrar's accounts to be audited by the auditor-general or the registrar's officers.

Registrar to act as deputy sheriff

38. The registrar shall, during the sitting of the court act as deputy sheriff, and exercise the powers and perform the duties of a deputy sheriff as prescribed by the Jury Act 1929 so far as the provisions of that Act are applicable.

Minutes of proceedings to be kept

39.(1) The registrar shall cause a note of the complaints, summonses, judgments, executions and returns thereto, and of the fines and of all other proceedings of the court, to be fairly entered from time to time in a register maintained by the court and kept at the office of the court.

Evidence

(2) In any action or other proceeding the books, and any entries therein, or copies of the books or entries under the seal of the court and purporting to be signed and certified by the registrar, shall upon production be prima facie evidence of the contents of the books, or of the entries, and of the proceedings referred to in them, and of the regularity of the proceedings.

When a clerk of the court is registrar, the clerk's successor or deputy shall be registrar

40.(1) When a clerk of the court is appointed registrar of a District Court held at the place where the person is clerk, the successor in office of the clerk, or a deputy, or a person performing the duties for the time being, shall exercise, and have the rights and powers, and shall perform the duties of the registrar of the District Court while the person is performing the duties of such clerk.

(2) However, the provisions of this section shall not affect the power of appointment hereinbefore vested in the Governor in Council.

(3) In this section—

“clerk of the court” has the meaning assigned to that expression by the Justices Act 1886.

Appointment of bailiffs and bailiffs' assistants

41.(1) For every Court there shall be 1 or more bailiffs, who shall be appointed by the Governor in Council.

(2) A bailiff may be suspended by a Judge.

(3) The bailiff may, by writing under the bailiff's hand, appoint a sufficient number of fit persons to assist the bailiff, and may dismiss all or any of them and appoint others in their stead.

(4) An officer so appointed may also be suspended by a judge or suspended or dismissed by the Attorney-General.

(5) The bailiff shall be responsible for the acts and defaults of the officers appointed to assist the bailiff.

Bailiffs' assistants may act after the death or removal of bailiff

42.(1) The death or removal of a bailiff shall not invalidate the acts of the officers so appointed, but they shall continue to act until they are dismissed by the successor to the bailiff or by the Attorney-General.

(2) They shall receive for their services while they so act after the death or removal of the bailiff the same remuneration as they were receiving at the date of the death or removal, and such remuneration shall be paid out of the salary and allowances attached to the office of bailiff.

Duties of bailiffs

43.(1) The bailiffs or 1 of them shall, if required by the judge, attend every sitting of the court, and shall, by themselves or their officers, serve all plaintiffs, and summonses and execute all warrants issued out of the court, and the bailiffs and officers shall in the execution of their duties conform to the rules of court, and subject thereto to the order and direction of the judge of the court for which they are appointed.

(2) However, a plaintiff or a summons may be served by the plaintiff or a person employed by the plaintiff.

Bailiff not required to take out auctioneer's licence

44. A bailiff or other officer duly authorised to execute a warrant of execution issued under the authority of this Act may sell land or goods without taking out an auctioneer's licence.

Remuneration of bailiffs

45.(1) A bailiff shall be paid a salary on account of the bailiff's general duties, and shall also be entitled to receive and retain for the bailiff's own use the fees prescribed as bailiffs' fees, unless the judge in any case otherwise orders.

(2) The bailiff shall, out of such fees, provide for the performance of the duties for which the fees are allowed, and for the payment of the officers appointed to assist the bailiff.

(3) The fees received for executing warrants of execution shall be paid by the registrar to the bailiff upon the issue of the warrant of execution.

Bailiff answerable for escape and neglect to levy execution

46.(1) If a bailiff who is directed to levy execution loses by neglect, connivance, or omission, the opportunity of levying the execution, a judge may, upon complaint of the party aggrieved, inquire into the matter in a summary way, and for that purpose may summon and enforce the attendance of the necessary parties in the same manner in which the attendance of witnesses in an action may be enforced, and may order the bailiff to pay such damages as it appears that the plaintiff has sustained, not exceeding in any case the sum of money for which the execution was issued, and the bailiff shall be liable to pay the same.

(2) Upon demand made, and on the bailiff's refusal to pay and satisfy the damages, payment may be enforced in the manner provided by this Act.

Police officers to attend at District Courts and execute warrants etc.

47. Police officers shall when required attend at the several District Courts held at the respective places where the police officers are stationed, and shall obey and execute in all cases every lawful summons, warrant, execution, order and command of the judge presiding at any such District Court.

Division 6—General provisions about officersDisabilities of registrar and bailiff

48.(1) A registrar shall not act as bailiff and a bailiff, the bailiff's partner or clerk, or a person in the service or employment of a bailiff or the bailiff's partner, shall not act as registrar, and an officer of the court shall not, either by himself or herself or by the officer's partner, be directly or indirectly concerned as solicitor or agent for a party in a proceeding in the court.

(2) Any person committing an offence against this section shall be liable to pay the sum of $200 and full costs of action to any person who sues for the same.

Bailiff to give security

49. Every bailiff shall give security for such sum and in such manner, as the Governor in Council orders, for the due performance of the bailiff's office and for the due accounting for and payment of moneys received by the bailiff under this Act or which the bailiff is liable to pay for misbehaviour in the bailiff's office.

Remedies against and penalties on bailiffs and other officers for misconduct

50.(1) If a registrar, bailiff or other officer, acting under, or under colour or pretence, of the process of the court is charged with extortion or misconduct, or with not duly paying or accounting for money levied by the officer under the authority of this Act, a judge may inquire into the matter in a summary way, and for that purpose may summon and enforce the attendance of the necessary parties in the manner provided by this Act for enforcing the attendance of witnesses, and may make such order for the repayment of the money extorted, or for the due payment of the money so levied, and for the payment of such damages and costs as the judge thinks just.

(2) The judge may also impose a fine upon the registrar, bailiff or other officer not exceeding $20 for each offence, and, in default of payment of the money so ordered to be paid, payment may be enforced in the manner provided by this Act for enforcing a judgment.

Indemnity to persons acting under this Act

51. If an action is brought against a person for anything done under a warrant issued in pursuance of this Act, the production of the warrant under the seal of the court in the action shall be deemed sufficient proof of the authority of the court previous to the issuing of the warrant, and if the plaintiff in the action has a verdict given against the plaintiff, is nonsuited, or discontinues the action, the defendant shall be allowed costs.

Division 7—Barristers, solicitors and agentsAppearance to be in person or by barrister, or solicitor, or other person allowed by the judge

52.(1) A party to an action or other proceeding under this Act may appear in person or by a barrister or solicitor or by any person allowed by special leave of the judge in any case.

(2) But a person, not being a barrister or solicitor of the Supreme Court, shall not be entitled to claim or recover, or receive directly or indirectly, a sum of money or other remuneration for appearing or acting on behalf of another person in a District Court.

PART 3—JURORSWho shall be jurors

53.(1) The persons qualified and liable to act as jurors for the trial of criminal and civil issues and for the assessment of damages respectively, under the provisions of the Jury Act 1929 shall be the persons qualified and liable to act as jurors in the District Courts.

(2) Where a Court is held at a court town at which the central registry or district registry of the Supreme Court is also the District Court registry pursuant to this Act, the jury lists made under the Jury Act 1929 by the sheriff or deputy sheriff, or copies of them, shall be the jury lists for the court.

(3) Every District Court shall be a court within the meaning of the Jury Act 1929 and every place where a District Court is held shall be a court town within the meaning of that Act and such Act shall be read and construed accordingly.

(4) Where the court is held at a court town at which there is no Supreme Court registry, the registrar of the District Court shall be, without further appointment than by this Act, a deputy sheriff.

Jury list for new districts

54.(1) If a regulation provides that a Court is to be held at a town in which there is no central registry or district registry of the Supreme Court, the jury lists for that town shall be made by the sheriff in accordance with such directions as the Governor in Council may give.

(2) If the Governor in Council does not give any such directions, the sheriff shall make such jury lists in accordance with the Jury Act 1929 as far as they can be made applicable.

Provisions of the Jury Act 1929 to apply

55.(1) Except as herein otherwise provided, all provisions of the Jury Act 1929 shall apply in respect of District Courts as they apply in respect of the Supreme Court.

(2) Without limiting the generality thereof the provisions of that Act relating to the constituting and procuring of juries, and the summoning and challenging of jurors, and the discharge of juries, shall extend and apply to the constituting and procuring of juries, and the summoning and challenging of jurors, and the discharge of juries, in District Courts.

Precept or order

56. The registrar of a District Court shall have the same power to issue jury precepts and orders to the sheriff or the sheriff's deputy for summoning jurors for the trial of criminal and civil issues as a registrar of the Supreme Court shall have for the issuing of such precepts and orders for the trial of such issues in the Supreme Court, and such sheriff or the sheriff's deputy shall have the like powers, authorities and duties in respect thereof as they or the sheriff may have in respect of a jury precept or order issued to them by the registrar of the Supreme Court.

Number to be empanelled

57. In respect of a District Court exercising its criminal jurisdiction, unless a judge of the District Court otherwise orders the number required to be summoned to appear and serve as jurors shall be at least 36 persons.

Attendance of jurors

58. A judge of a District Court shall have the same powers to inflict fines for the non-attendance of jurors as a judge of the Supreme Court has under the Jury Act 1929, section 47, and that section shall hereafter be read and construed as if the words ‘or District Court’ were inserted after the word ‘Court’ where it occurs in that section, and the words ‘or District Court judge’ were inserted after the word ‘judge’ where it occurs in that section.

Payments to jurors

59. Every juror duly summoned who attends a Court shall, for every day during which the juror is required to attend and actually attends the court (whether he or she actually serves upon a jury or not), be entitled to, and every tales whose name has been added to the panel, shall be entitled to receive such compensation for such attendance and allowance for the juror’s travelling expenses as may be prescribed from time to time in respect of jurors attending a Supreme Court or a Circuit Court.

PART 4—CRIMINAL JURISDICTION AND PROCEDURE

Division 1—Criminal jurisdiction

District Courts shall have criminal jurisdiction

60. A District Court shall have jurisdiction to inquire of, hear, and determine all indictable offences, wheresoever committed, save as hereinafter excepted.

Exception from criminal jurisdiction

61.(1) Subject to subsection (2), a District Court shall not have jurisdiction to try a person charged with any indictable offence in respect of which the maximum term of imprisonment which may be imposed exceeds 14 years.

(2) A District Court shall have jurisdiction to try a person charged with committing or counselling or procuring the commission of any offence defined in the Criminal Code, sections 208, 213, 215, 216, 219, 222, 229B, 315 to 317, 337, 347, 398, 409, 411, 412, 415, 419, 461 and 469 including any such offence in respect of which 1 or more than 1 circumstance of aggravation provided for under that code is alleged to exist, whether or not the maximum term of imprisonment which may be imposed in respect thereof exceeds 14 years.

Withdrawal of criminal jurisdiction

62. A regulation may withdraw from a District Court its criminal jurisdiction, either absolutely or for a stated limited time.

Division 2—Procedure

Change of venue

63.(1) When an accused person is committed for trial to a District Court, not being the Court of the district within which the offence is alleged to have been committed, a judge of the Supreme Court or of a District Court, may order the trial to be held in the Court of that district, and may make all such orders for the remand and custody of the accused person, and for the enlargement of the accused person's bail or the notices to witnesses, as may be necessary.

(2) In any other case the venue may be changed by order of a judge of the Supreme Court, or of a District Court, who may make the like orders for the purposes aforesaid.

(3) The judge of a District Court may, at any stage of a criminal trial pending in the judge's court, order that the trial take place at another District Court, subject to such conditions as the judge thinks fit, and may remand the accused in custody or on bail to that court.

Change of trial from Supreme Court to District Court

64.(1) When a person has been committed for trial or sentence to the Supreme Court or a Circuit Court or has been indicted in any such court for an offence triable in a District Court any District Court judge if so requested by the Chief Justice may try or sentence such person and for that purpose shall have the same powers and jurisdiction as if the committal had been to or the indictment had been presented in a District Court.

(2) The request of the Chief Justice may be made in respect of a particular case or cases or in respect of specified categories of cases.

(3) When a person has been committed for trial to a District Court or has been indicted in a District Court any judge of the Supreme Court shall have the same powers and jurisdiction to try such person as if the committal had been to or the indictment presented in the Supreme Court or Circuit Court.

Jury in criminal cases

65. All indictable offences prosecuted in the Court shall be tried by a judge and a jury of 12, to be chosen, returned, summoned and sworn, as by law for the time being is provided for the choosing, returning, summoning and swearing, of jurors for the trial of criminal issues in the Supreme Court.

Issues of law and fact

66. Issues of law and fact shall be determined by the judge or jury as if the trial were a trial on indictment in the Supreme Court.

Registrar may issue subpoenas

67.(1) The registrar may issue subpoenas in criminal cases for the attendance of witnesses at the trial of a person committed for trial to the Court of which he or she is registrar, or to another Court, whether an information or indictment has been presented against such person or not.

(2) A person disobeying a subpoena shall be liable to the same consequences as for disobedience to a subpoena issued in a civil proceeding under the authority of this Act.

PART 5—CIVIL JURISDICTION*Division 1—Civil jurisdictionDistrict Courts' civil jurisdiction

68.(1) A District Court shall have jurisdiction to hear and determine—

- (a) all personal actions, where the amount, value or damage sought to be recovered does not exceed the monetary limit including—
 - (i) any equitable claim or demand for recovery of money or damages, whether liquidated or unliquidated;
 - (ii) any claim for detention of chattels;
 - (iii) any claim for rent or mesne profits;
 - (iv) any claim for any debt, damages or compensation arising under any Act; and
- (b) actions and matters—
 - (i) for enforcing by delivery of possession any mortgage,

District Courts Act 1967

encumbrance, charge or lien, where the amount owing in respect thereof does not exceed the monetary limit;

- (ii) for relief against fraud or mistake, where the damage sustained or the estate or fund in respect of which relief is sought does not exceed in amount or value the monetary limit;
- (iii) for specific performance of an agreement for the sale or other disposition of land or an interest in land or of any other property, where the value of the land or interest or property does not exceed the monetary limit, or in lieu of or in addition to specific performance, damages not exceeding the monetary limit;
- (iv) for rectifying, delivering up or cancelling any agreement, where the amount in dispute or the value of the property affected does not exceed the monetary limit;
- (v) for a declaration of partnership or dissolution or winding up of, or otherwise relating to, any partnership, where the property of the partnership does not exceed in amount or value the monetary limit;
- (vi) for the sale or partition or division of property pursuant to the Property Law Act 1974, section 38 or 41, where the property does not exceed in amount or value the monetary limit;
- (vii) for the administration of the estate of a deceased person, where the estate does not exceed in amount or value the monetary limit;
- (viii) for the execution of a trust or a declaration that a trust subsists, where the estate or fund subject or alleged to be subject to the trust does not exceed in amount or value the monetary limit;
- (ix) relating to the custody, maintenance or advancement of an infant including the appointment of a guardian to the property or person of an infant but not so as to authorise any order under this provision affecting assets or property of an infant exceeding in amount or value the monetary limit;

District Courts Act 1967

- (x) for family provision pursuant to the Succession Act 1981, sections 40 to 43, but so that any provision resulting from an order made by the court shall not exceed in amount or value the monetary limit;
- (xi) to recover possession of any land, where the value of the land does not exceed the monetary limit;
- (xii) to restrain, whether by injunction or otherwise, any actual, threatened or apprehended trespass or nuisance to land, where the value of that land does not exceed the monetary limit, or, in lieu of or in addition to such an injunction, damages not exceeding the monetary limit;
- (xiii) for the determination of any question of construction arising under a deed, will or other written instrument, and for a declaration of the rights of the persons interested where the sum or the property in respect of which the declaration is sought does not exceed in amount or value the monetary limit;
- (xiv) for the appointment under the Public Trustee Act 1978, section 104 of the public trustee as administrator of any unclaimed property, where the gross value of the property does not exceed in amount or value the monetary limit.

(2) In this section—

“monetary limit” means $200 000.

(3) For the purpose of determining whether or not a District Court has jurisdiction under this part—

- (a) in the case of proceedings falling within subsection (1)(a)(ii)—the amount claimed for detention of goods is the amount claimed for the value of the goods together with the amount (if any) claimed for damages for the detention of the goods;
- (b) in the case of proceedings falling within subsection (1)(b)(iii), (xi) or (xii)—the value of land shall be the most recent valuation, current at the time of instituting the proceedings, made by the chief executive (of the department within which the Valuation of Land Act 1944 is administered) under the Valuation of Land Act 1944, or, if there is no such valuation in respect of the land, the current market value at that time of the land exclusive of improvements thereto;

- (c) in any case where it is necessary to determine whether the monetary limit is exceeded—no account shall be taken of any amount awarded or liable to be awarded in the action by way of interest on any amount.

(4) Where any question arises as to the amount or value for the purpose of jurisdiction under this part the decision of the District Court or judge thereof shall be conclusive as to that matter.

Powers of District Court

69.(1) Subject to this Act and to the rules of court, a District Court and any judge thereof has, for the purposes of exercising the jurisdiction conferred by this part, all the powers and authorities of the Supreme Court and any judge thereof, and may in any proceeding in like manner and to like extent—

- (a) grant such relief or remedy; and
- (b) make any order, including an order for attachment or committal in consequence of disobedience to an order; and
- (c) give effect to every ground of defence or matter of set-off whether equitable or legal;

as may and ought to be done in like cases by a judge of the Supreme Court.

(2) Without affecting the generality of subsection (1), a District Court and any judge thereof shall, in any proceedings in which jurisdiction is conferred under this part, have power to grant relief—

- (a) by way of a declaration of rights of the parties;
- (b) by way of injunction, whether interim, interlocutory or final, in the proceedings;
- (c) by staying the proceedings or part thereof;
- (d) by appointing a receiver including an interim receiver.

(3) Subject to this Act and the rules of court, the practice and procedure of a District Court or a judge thereof—

- (a) in exercising the jurisdiction conferred by this part; and
- (b) in enforcing any judgment or order made in the exercise of that jurisdiction;

shall so far as practicable be the same as the practice and procedure of the Supreme Court or a judge thereof in like matters.

(4) Without affecting the generality of subsection (3), the appropriate officer of the District Court shall, in addition to any duties otherwise imposed on the officer, discharge—

- (a) any duty which an officer of the Supreme Court would be required under the practice of the Supreme Court to discharge in the like circumstances;
- (b) any duty imposed on the officer by any order of the court.

(5) For the purposes of subsection (4) the appropriate officer of the District Court shall have the powers of the relevant officer of the Supreme Court.

Relief against proceedings to recover land

70. In relation to proceedings instituted or threatened to be instituted pursuant to section 68(1)(b)(xi), the District Court or a judge thereof may exercise all or any of the powers and authorities of the Supreme Court or a judge thereof under the Property Law Act 1974, sections 124, 125 and 127.

Reference to arbitration

71. The judge may in any action or matter, at any time before judgment, order the action or matter or any question arising thereon, with or without other matters within the jurisdiction of the Court in dispute between the parties, to be referred to arbitration, to such person or persons and in such manner and on such terms as the judge thinks reasonable.

Consent jurisdiction

72.(1) If both parties agree, by a memorandum signed by them or by their solicitors, that any specified District Court shall have jurisdiction to try any action which might be brought or any counterclaim which might be made in the Supreme Court, that District Court shall have jurisdiction to try the action or counterclaim, or both.

(2) The memorandum shall state that the parties signing it know that the action or as the occasion shall require, the counterclaim, is not within the jurisdiction of the District Court without such consent, and shall be filed with the registrar in the case of an action at the time when the plaint is entered and in the case of a counterclaim, at the time the defence and counterclaim is filed or at such later time as a Judge on application made in that behalf, may allow.

Splitting demands—abandonment of excess

73. A plaintiff shall not divide a cause of action for the purpose of bringing 2 or more actions in a District Court, but a plaintiff having a cause of action for more than the amount for which a plaint might be entered under this Act may abandon the excess (which abandonment shall be stated in the plaint), and thereupon the plaintiff may, on proving the plaintiff's case, recover to an amount not exceeding the limit specified by this Act and the judgment of the court shall be in full discharge of all demands in respect of the cause of action, and entry of the judgment of the court shall be made accordingly.

Splitting debt by giving bills

74. If a defendant has given 2 or more bills of exchange, promissory notes, bonds or other securities, for a debt or sum originally exceeding the amount specified in section 68(2) the plaintiff may sue separately upon each of the securities not exceeding such amount as forming a distinct cause action.

Division 2—Trial by jury

When a jury may be summoned

75. Any party may require a jury to be summoned in any of the following cases—

- (a) in any action or matter in which the amount claimed exceeds

District Courts Act 1967

$10 000;

- (b) in any action for the recovery of possession of land of which the value exceeds $10 000;
- (c) in proceedings in interpleader in which the amount claimed or the value of the goods in question exceeds $10 000;
- (d) in an action or matter which before the commencement of the District Courts Act and Other Acts Amendment Act 1989 might have been commenced only in the Supreme Court unless the parties agreed to it being heard and determined in another jurisdiction;

unless the action or matter is one which if brought in the Supreme Court would be required to be heard and determined by a judge without a jury.

*Division 3—EvidenceRules of evidence

76. The rules of evidence observed in the Supreme Court shall be applicable to and observed upon the trial of questions of fact in a District Court.

*Division 4—Removal of actionsRemoval of proceedings from Supreme Court to District Court

77.(1) If proceedings are pending in the Supreme Court that in the absence of a memorandum signed under section 72—

- (a) might have been brought in a District Court within its jurisdiction under this part; or
- (b) in a case where an Act amending the jurisdiction of District Courts comes into operation while the proceedings are pending in the Supreme Court—might have been brought in a District Court within its jurisdiction under this part if the Act had come into operation before the proceedings were brought in the Supreme Court;

District Courts Act 1967

a party to the proceedings may at any time apply to the Supreme Court or a judge thereof for an order remitting the proceedings to a District Court, or the Supreme Court or a judge thereof may of its or the judge's own motion order the party that brought the proceedings to show cause as directed therein why the proceedings should not be so remitted.

(2) If the Supreme Court or a judge thereof makes an order under subsection (1) on its or the judge's own motion, the registrar shall give notice of the order to the party in question and in accordance with the rules of the Supreme Court.

(3) In a hearing conducted pursuant to subsection (1), unless it is shown to the satisfaction of the Supreme Court or the judge—

- (a) that unnecessary delay would be caused by a trial in a District Court; or
- (b) that either by reason of the probable cost of trial in a District Court, or by reason of the questions of law involved in the proceedings, or because there is reason to believe that a fair trial cannot be had in a District Court, the case ought to be tried in the Supreme Court;

it or the judge may order the proceedings pending in the Supreme Court to be remitted to a District Court.

(4) Where the Supreme Court or a judge thereof makes an order under subsection (3) remitting proceedings to a District Court, the registrar of the Supreme Court shall transmit to the registrar of that District Court a copy of the order and a copy of the writ, pleadings or other documents filed by the parties in the registry of the Supreme Court in relation to the proceedings.

(5) Proceedings remitted to a District Court shall be heard and determined and judgment therein shall be entered as if the proceedings had been commenced in that District Court.

(6) The costs of the parties in respect of proceedings remitted to a District Court by an order made under subsection (3)—

- (a) incurred subsequently to the order shall be allowed according to the scale prescribed in District Courts;
- (b) incurred before the order—
 - (i) in the case of proceedings referred to in subsection (1)(a) shall be in the discretion of the Supreme Court or a judge thereof; and

- (ii) in the case of proceedings referred to in subsection (1)(b) shall be allowed according to the scale prescribed in the Supreme Court.

Removal of proceedings from a District Court to a Magistrates Court

78.(1) If proceedings are pending in a District Court within its jurisdiction under this part that without the consent of all parties—

- (a) might have been brought in a Magistrates Court; or
- (b) in a case where an Act amending the jurisdiction of Magistrates Courts comes into operation while the proceedings are pending in the District Court—might have been brought in a Magistrates Court if the Act had come into operation before the proceedings were brought in the District Court;

a party to the proceedings may at any time apply to the District Court or a judge thereof for an order remitting the proceedings to a Magistrates Court, or the District Court or a judge thereof may of its or the judge's own motion order the party that brought the proceedings to show cause as directed therein why the proceedings should not be so remitted.

(2) If a District Court or a judge thereof makes an order under subsection (1) on its or the judge's own motion, the registrar shall give notice of the order to the party in question and in accordance with the rules of court.

(3) In a hearing conducted pursuant to subsection (1), unless it is shown to the satisfaction of the District Court or the judge—

- (a) that unnecessary delay would be caused by a trial in a Magistrates Court; or
- (b) that either by reason of the probable cost of trial in a Magistrates Court, or by reason of the questions of law involved in the proceedings, or because there is reason to believe that a fair trial cannot be had in a Magistrates Court, the case ought to be tried in the District Court;

it or the judge may order the proceedings pending in the District Court to be remitted to a Magistrates Court.

(4) Where a District Court or a judge thereof makes an order under subsection (3) remitting proceedings to a Magistrates Court, the registrar of that District Court shall transmit to the registrar of the Magistrates Court to which the proceedings are remitted a copy of the order and a copy of the plaint, pleadings or other documents filed by the parties in the registry of the District Court in relation to the proceedings.

(5) Proceedings remitted to a Magistrates Court shall be heard and determined and judgment therein shall be entered as if the proceedings had been commenced in that Magistrates Court.

(6) The costs of the parties in respect of proceedings remitted to a Magistrates Court by an order made under subsection (3)—

- (a) incurred subsequently to the order shall be allowed according to the scale prescribed in Magistrates Courts;
- (b) incurred before the order—
 - (i) in the case of proceedings referred to in subsection (1)(a)—shall be in the discretion of the District Court or a judge thereof; and
 - (ii) in the case of proceedings referred to in subsection (1)(b)—shall be allowed according to the scale prescribed in the District Courts.

Plaintiff's right to transfer action from Magistrates Court to District Court

79.(1) Where there is now or hereafter pending in a Magistrates Court an action, the plaintiff may at any time apply to a District Court or a judge thereof for an order to transfer the action to a District Court on the ground that there is reasonable ground for supposing that the relief or remedy sought (which would be available if the action were transferred to the District Court) is not available in the Magistrates Court.

(2) If, on any such application the judge is satisfied that there is reasonable ground as aforesaid, the judge shall make an order that the action be transferred to a District Court.

Transfer of certain actions from Magistrates Court to District Court at defendant's instance 80.(1) Where there is now or hereafter pending in a Magistrates Court any action wherein the relief or remedy sought is one which would also be available if the action were transferred to a District Court, the defendant may make application to a District Court or a judge thereof to transfer the action to a District Court.

(2) The judge shall not grant the application unless the judge is satisfied that some important question of law or fact is likely to arise and the order for transfer of the action shall be subject to the defendant giving security to be approved by the registrar for the costs of the trial in a District Court.

Procedure where proceedings beyond jurisdiction are commenced in Magistrates Court

81.(1) Where any proceedings are now or hereafter pending in a Magistrates Court in which a Magistrates Court has no jurisdiction, that Magistrates Court shall, unless it is given jurisdiction by an agreement made under the provisions of the rules under the Magistrates Courts Act 1921 order that the proceedings (save proceedings which are not within the jurisdiction of a District Court) be transferred to a District Court.

(2) However, where, on the application of any defendant, it appears to the Magistrates Court that the plaintiff or 1 of the plaintiffs knew or ought to have known that a Magistrates Court had no jurisdiction in the proceedings, the Magistrates Court may, if it thinks fit, instead of ordering that the proceedings be transferred as aforesaid, order that they be struck out.

Plaintiff's right to transfer action from District Court to Supreme Court

82.(1) Where there is now or hereafter pending in a District Court an action, the plaintiff may at any time apply to the Supreme Court or a judge thereof for an order to transfer the action to the Supreme Court, on the ground that there is reasonable ground for supposing that the relief or remedy sought is not available in the District Court.

(2) If, on any such application, the Court or judge is satisfied that there is reasonable ground as aforesaid, it or the judge shall make an order that the action be transferred to the Supreme Court.

Transfer of certain actions from District Court to Supreme Court at defendant's instance 83.(1) Where there is now or hereafter pending in a District Court any action, the defendant may make application to the Supreme Court or a judge thereof to transfer the action to the Supreme Court.

(2) The Court or judge shall not grant the application unless it or the judge is satisfied some important question of law or fact is likely to arise and the order for transfer of the action shall be subject to the defendant giving security to be approved by the registrar for the costs of the trial in the Supreme Court.

Costs

84. When an order is granted for the removal of an action or matter from a District Court, or for the issuing of a writ of certiorari for such removal, and provision is not made with respect to the costs of the proceedings in the District Court, the costs of the proceedings shall be costs in the action or matter.

Procedure where proceedings beyond jurisdiction are commenced in District Court

85.(1) Where any proceedings are now or hereafter pending in a District Court in which a District Court has no jurisdiction, that court shall, unless it is given jurisdiction by an agreement made under the provisions of section 72, order that the proceedings be transferred to the Supreme Court.

(2) However, where, on the application of any defendant, it appears to a District Court that the plaintiff or 1 of the plaintiffs knew or ought to have known that a District Court had no jurisdiction in the proceedings, a District Court may, if it thinks fit, instead of ordering that the proceedings be transferred as aforesaid, order that they be struck out.

Jurisdiction as to counterclaims

86.(1) Where, in any action now or hereafter pending in a District Court, any counterclaim or set-off and counterclaim which involves matter beyond the jurisdiction of a District Court has been filed by any defendant, any party to the action may, within 14 days after the filing of the said counterclaim or set-off and counterclaim, apply to a judge of the Supreme Court for an order that the whole proceedings, or the proceedings on the said counterclaim or set-off and counterclaim be transferred to the Supreme Court.

(2) On any such application the judge of the Supreme Court may, as the judge thinks fit, order either—

- (a) that the whole proceedings be transferred to the Supreme Court; or
- (b) that the whole proceedings be heard and determined in a District Court; or
- (c) that the proceedings on the counterclaim or set-off and counterclaim be transferred to the Supreme Court and that the proceedings on the plaintiff's claim and the defence thereto other than the set-off (if any) be heard and determined in a District Court.

(3) However, where an order is made under subsection(2)(c), and judgment on the claim is given for the plaintiff, execution thereon shall, unless the Supreme Court or a judge thereof at any time otherwise orders, be stayed until the proceedings transferred to the Supreme Court have been determined.

(4) Where the Supreme Court makes any order under the provisions of this section, the registrar shall forward to the registrar of the District Court a copy of the order so made.

(5) If no application is made under this section within the time prescribed, or if on such an application it is ordered that the whole proceedings be heard and determined in a District Court, the District Court shall have jurisdiction to hear and determine the whole proceedings, notwithstanding any enactment to the contrary.

Application of statutes of limitations

87. Any action, matter or proceeding which has been or may be—

- (a) remitted or transferred from the Supreme Court or another court to a District Court; or
- (b) removed or remitted or transferred from a District Court to the Supreme Court or another court; is taken, for the Limitations of Action Act 1974 or another Act prescribing a period of limitation within which an action, matter or proceeding may be brought, to have been brought in the Court to which it has been removed, remitted or transferred on the day the action, matter or proceeding was originally brought whether in the Supreme Court, a District Court or any other court.

PART 6—RECOVERY OF POSSESSION OF LANDWarrant empowers bailiff to enter on land

88. A warrant to a bailiff to give possession of land empowers the bailiff named in the warrant to enter on the land with such assistance as the bailiff determines and to give possession accordingly.

PART 7—ADR PROCESSES*Division 1—PreliminaryObjects of part

89. The objects of this part are—

- (a) to provide an opportunity for litigants to participate in ADR processes in order to achieve negotiated settlements and

District Courts Act 1967

- satisfactory resolutions of disputes; and
- (b) to introduce ADR processes into the court system to improve access to justice for litigants and to reduce cost and delay; and
 - (c) to provide a legislative framework allowing ADR processes to be conducted as quickly, and with as little formality and technicality, as possible; and
 - (d) to safeguard ADR processes—
 - (i) by ensuring they remain confidential; and
 - (ii) by extending the same protection to participants in an ADR process they would have if the dispute were before a District Court.

*Division 2—Important termsADR process

90.(1) An “ADR process” is a process of mediation or case appraisal under which the parties are helped to achieve an early, inexpensive settlement or resolution of their dispute.

(2) In division 6², an “ADR process” includes all the steps involved in an ADR process, including, for example—

- (a) pre-mediation and post-mediation sessions; and
- (b) a case appraisal session; and
- (c) joint sessions; and
- (d) private sessions; and
- (e) another step prescribed under the rules.

Mediation

91. “Mediation” is a process under the rules under which the parties use

² Confidentiality, protection and immunity a mediator to help them resolve their dispute by negotiated agreement without adjudication.

Case appraisal

92.(1) “Case appraisal” is a process under the rules under which a case appraiser provisionally decides a dispute.

- (2) A case appraiser’s decision is not binding on the parties until—
- (a) the time prescribed by the rules for filing an election to go to trial has passed; and
 - (b) a District Court, by order, gives effect to the decision.

Division 3—Establishment of ADR processes

Approval of mediators

93. The Chief Judge may approve, or refuse to approve, a person as a mediator.

Approval of case appraisers

94. The Chief Judge may approve, or refuse to approve, a person as a case appraiser.

ADR register

95.(1) The registrar of the Supreme Court must keep a register of information about ADR processes.

(2) The register may be kept in the form (whether or not in a documentary form) the registrar considers appropriate.

(3) Without limiting subsection (2), the registrar may change the form in which a register or a part of a register is kept.

- (4) The register must contain—
- (a) the name and address of each mediator and each case appraiser (other than a judge); and

- (b) other information prescribed under the rules; and
- (c) other information decided by the Senior Judge Administrator of the Supreme Court.

Parties may agree to ADR process

96.(1) The parties to a dispute may agree to refer their dispute to an ADR process.

(2) If the parties agree to the referral, they must file a consent order in the form prescribed under the rules with the registrar.

(3) A consent order filed under this section is taken to be a referring order.

Court may consider and order reference to ADR process

97.(1) A District Court may require the parties or their representatives to attend before it to enable the court to decide whether the parties' dispute should be referred to an ADR process.

(2) The court may, by order (“referring order”), refer the dispute for mediation or case appraisal.

(3) Without limiting the court's discretion, the court may take the following matters into account when deciding whether to refer a dispute to case appraisal—

- (a) whether the costs of litigating the dispute to the end are likely to be disproportionate to the benefit gained;
- (b) the likelihood of an appraisal producing a compromise or an abandonment of a claim or defence;
- (c) other circumstances justify an appraisal.

Parties must attend at ADR process if District Court orders

98.(1) If a referring order is made, the parties—

- (a) must attend before the ADR convenor appointed to conduct the ADR process; and

- (b) must not impede the ADR convenor in conducting and finishing the ADR process within the time allowed under the referring order.

(2) If a party impedes the ADR process, a District Court may impose sanctions against the party, including, for example—

- (a) by ordering that any claim for relief by the defaulting party is stayed until further order; and
- (b) by taking the party's action into account when awarding costs in the proceeding or in another related proceeding between the parties.

Procedure at case appraisal

99.(1) At a case appraisal, the case appraiser—

- (a) must decide the procedure to be used at the case appraisal; and
- (b) may adopt any procedure that will, in the case appraiser's opinion, enable a sound opinion of the likely outcome of the dispute to be reached; and
- (c) must finish the case appraisal as quickly as possible.

(2) However, the case appraiser may, in special circumstances—

- (a) receive evidence; and
- (b) examine witnesses, and administer oaths to witnesses, who have been lawfully called before the case appraiser.

(3) A District Court may, at any time, give directions about procedure to be used at the case appraisal.

(4) This section is subject to section 100.

Subpoenas

100.(1) A person may be subpoenaed to appear at a case appraisal only by order of a District Court.

(2) A person may not be subpoenaed to appear at a mediation.

(3) A person subpoenaed to appear at a case appraisal must not be compelled to answer a question, or produce a document, the person could not be compelled to answer or produce before a District Court.

Division 4—Party unable to pay share of costs

Party unable to pay share of costs

101.(1) If, at any time, a District Court is of the opinion a party to an ADR process is unable, because of the party's financial circumstances, to pay the party's percentage of the ADR costs, the court may make an order appropriate in the circumstances.

(2) Without limiting subsection (1), the order may provide—

- (a) the reference to the ADR process be cancelled; or
- (b) the referring order be revoked and another referring order made.

Division 5—What to do when ADR process is finished

Mediated resolution agreement

102.(1) If, at a mediation, the parties agree on a resolution of their dispute or part of it, the agreement must be written down and signed by or for each party and by the mediator.

(2) The agreement has the same effect as any other compromise.

Mediator to file certificate

103. As soon as practicable after a mediation has finished, the mediator must file with the registrar of the referring court a certificate about the mediation in the form prescribed under the rules.

Case appraiser to file certificate and decision

104. As soon as practicable after a case appraisal has finished, the case appraiser must file with the registrar of the referring court—

- (a) a certificate about the case appraisal in the form prescribed under the rules; and

- (b) the case appraiser's decision (if any).

Orders giving effect to mediation agreement

105.(1) A party may apply to a District Court for an order giving effect to an agreement reached after mediation.

(2) However, a party may apply for the order only after the mediator's certificate is filed with the registrar of the referring court.

(3) The court may make any order it considers appropriate in the circumstances.

Orders giving effect to case appraiser's decision

106.(1) A party may apply to a District Court for an order giving effect to a case appraiser's decision after the time prescribed under the rules for electing to go to trial has passed.

(2) However, a party may apply for the order before the time mentioned in subsection (1) if all parties agree.

(3) The court may make any order it considers appropriate in the circumstances.

Division 6—Confidentiality, protection and immunity

ADR convenors to maintain secrecy

107.(1) An ADR convenor must not, without reasonable excuse, disclose information coming to the convenor's knowledge during an ADR process.

Maximum penalty—50 penalty units.

(2) It is a reasonable excuse to disclose information if the disclosure is made—

- (a) with the agreement of all the parties to the ADR process; or (b) for this part; or

- (c) for statistical purposes without revealing, or being likely to reveal, the identity of a person about whom the information relates; or
- (d) for an inquiry or proceeding about an offence happening during the ADR process; or
- (e) for a proceeding founded on fraud alleged to be connected with, or to have happened during, the ADR process; or
- (f) under a requirement imposed under an Act.

Ordinary protection and immunity allowed

108.(1) In performing the functions of mediator or case appraiser, an ADR convenor has the same protection and immunity as a judge performing the functions of a judge.

(2) A party appearing in an ADR dispute has the same protection and immunity the party would have if the dispute were being heard before a District Court.

(3) A witness attending in an ADR dispute has the same protection and immunity as a witness attending before a District Court.

(4) A document produced at, or used for, an ADR dispute has the same protection during the ADR dispute it would have if produced before a District Court.

(5) In subsection (2)—

“party” includes a party’s lawyer or agent.

Admissions made to ADR convenors

109.(1) Evidence of anything done or said, or an admission made, at an ADR process about the dispute is admissible at the trial of the dispute or in another civil proceeding before a District Court or elsewhere only if all parties to the dispute agree.

(2) In subsection (1)—

“civil proceeding” does not include a civil proceeding founded on fraud alleged to be connected with, or to have happened during, the ADR process.

Division 7—MiscellaneousRevocation of approval as mediator or case appraiser

110.(1) The Chief Judge may revoke the approval of a person as a mediator or case appraiser.

(2) The Chief Judge must give the person a statement of reasons for the revocation.

PART 7A—USE OF VIDEO LINK FACILITIESPurpose of part

110A. The purpose of this part is to provide for the use of video link facilities for certain proceedings before a District Court.

Definitions for part

110B. In this part—

“detainee” means—

- (a) for section 110C(1)—someone who is in custody at a correctional institution; and
- (b) otherwise—someone who is—
 - (i) in custody at a correctional institution; and
 - (ii) a party to a proceeding.

“proceeding” for a provision of this part, other than section 110C(1), means a proceeding to which section 110C(1) applies.

Use of video link facilities in proceedings

110C.(1) This section applies to a proceeding if—

- (a) a detainee is entitled or required to be present before a District Court for the proceeding; and

- (b) the proceeding is about an offence with which the detainee is charged, including a proceeding for the detainee's bail or remand; and
- (c) video link facilities are available linking the correctional institution where the detainee is in custody and the court.

(2) A proceeding for the detainee's bail or remand must be conducted using the video link facilities, unless the court, in the interests of justice, otherwise orders.

(3) In a proceeding, other than a proceeding for the detainee's bail or remand, the court may order the proceeding be conducted using video link facilities only if all parties consent.

(4) The video link facilities may only be used to link the proceeding before the court at the place the court is sitting with the detainee, or the detainee and the detainee's representative, at the correctional institution.

Detainee taken to be before the court

110D.(1) A person present at the part of the correctional institution used for the conduct of a proceeding, when the proceeding is being conducted, is taken to be in the presence of the District Court for all purposes.

(2) The part of the correctional institution used for the proceeding is taken to be part of the court for the conduct of the proceeding.

(3) Any entitlement of, or requirement for, the detainee under any law or court order to be present before the court in the proceeding is taken to be satisfied by the detainee's use of video link facilities for the proceeding.

Way video link facilities must be operated

110E.(1) Video link facilities, when used for a proceeding, are to be operated in a way that ensures two-way audio and visual communication between the detainee and the District Court.

(2) If video link facilities fail during a proceeding, the court may adjourn the proceeding or make another appropriate order, as if the detainee were still in the presence of the court.

Facilities for private communication

110F.(1) The District Court and the correctional institution must make facilities available for private communication between the detainee and the detainee's representative in a proceeding if the representative is at the place where the court is sitting.

(2) A communication between the detainee and the detainee's representative is as confidential and as inadmissible in any proceeding as it would be if it took place between the detainee and the detainee's representative while in each other's presence.

(3) Subsection (2) does not limit any other protection applying to the communication.

Variation or revocation of order

110G. The District Court may, at any time, vary or revoke an order made under section 110C.'

PART 8—APPEALS TO DISTRICT COURTSAppeals from Magistrates Courts

111.(1) An appeal shall not lie from a Magistrates Court to the Supreme Court.

(2) An appeal shall lie to a District Court in such cases and subject to the same conditions as such an appeal lay to the Supreme Court prior to the coming into operation of the District Courts Act 1958 and a District Court shall have the same powers, authorities and duties as the Supreme Court had in respect of any such appeal or application for leave to appeal.

Other appeals

112.(1) Where in any Act provision is made for an appeal—

- (a) to a court of general or quarter sessions; or

- (b) to a judge of the Supreme Court on circuit; or
- (c) from a decision of justices and no other court of appeal is designated;

the appeal shall lie to a District Court.

(2) In any such case, the judge may state in the form of a special case for the opinion of the Supreme Court any question of law arising upon the facts of the case, and the judge's judgment shall be affirmed, amended or reversed, as the Supreme Court, upon the hearing of the special case, directs.

Definitions for part

113. In this part—

“appeal” includes any special case or other case stated for the opinion of a District Court.

“central district” means the central district of the Supreme Court.

“court” means a tribunal constituted with the title ‘Court’ under any Act.

“decision” includes any conviction, determination, judgment or order recorded or made by a court.

“northern district” means the northern district of the Supreme Court.

“party” includes a prospective party to a proposed appeal.

“prescribed place” means a place for the time being appointed under section 114 to be a place at which jurisdiction of a District Court to hear and determine appeals may be exercised, in respect of all appeals or in respect of appeals of a particular description.

Appointment of prescribed places

114. A regulation may appoint any place at which a District Court may be held, other than the cities of Brisbane, Townsville and Rockhampton, to be a place at which jurisdiction of a District Court to hear and determine appeals may be exercised, in respect of all appeals or in respect of appeals of a particular description referred to in the order.

District Court's jurisdiction

115.(1) Where pursuant to any Act an appeal may be brought in a District Court, jurisdiction to hear and determine any appeal so brought may be exercised by a District Court—

- (a) at any place at which the appeal may be heard and determined in accordance with this part; or
- (b) at any place to which the appeal has been duly transferred in accordance with this part.

(2) The provisions of subsection (1) have effect without prejudice to the pronouncement of judgment by a District Court, by way of determining an appeal, at any place at which a District Court may be held.

Venue of appeals

116.(1) Except where the place at which an appeal to a District Court may be heard and determined is prescribed under a law (other than this part), an appeal to a District Court shall be heard and determined—

- (a) in the District Court at Townsville or at a place within the northern district that is a prescribed place in respect of the appeal, if the appeal relates to a decision of or a matter before any court that has exercised or is exercising jurisdiction within that district;
- (b) in the District Court at Rockhampton or at a place within the central district that is a prescribed place in respect of the appeal, if the appeal relates to a decision of or a matter before any court that has exercised or is exercising jurisdiction within that district;
- (c) in the District Court at Brisbane or at a place within that part of Queensland not within a district referred to in paragraph (a) or (b) that is a prescribed place in respect of the appeal, if the appeal relates to a decision of or a matter before any court that has exercised or is exercising jurisdiction within that part.

(2) However, with the consent of all parties to the appeal or to the proceedings to which the appeal will relate, the appeal may be heard and determined at Brisbane, Townsville or Rockhampton or any place that is a prescribed place in respect of the appeal.

(3) No provision of this section shall be construed to prejudice the provisions of any other Act that prescribe the procedure for instituting an appeal or the provisions of section 115.

Transfer of appeal hearings

117.(1) If at any time after the institution of an appeal that is to be heard and determined at a place in accordance with this part it appears to a judge of District Courts that—

- (a) it is in the interests of justice that the appeal be heard at another place; or
- (b) the appeal may be more conveniently heard at another place at which a District Court may be held and no party to the appeal or to the proceedings to which the appeal relates objects;

the judge may, upon application by any party to the appeal or to such proceedings, or, if the judge is the judge hearing the appeal, of the judge's own motion, order that the appeal be transferred into a District Court at that other place, whereupon the appeal may be heard or continued at that other place.

(2) Where an order is made under subsection (1) the officer having custody of the appeal record shall transmit the record and all appropriate exhibits to the appropriate officer at the place where the appeal is to be heard or continued.

PART 9—APPEALS FROM DISTRICT COURTS TO COURT OF APPEAL

Appeal to the Court of Appeal in certain cases

118.(1) Any party who is dissatisfied with the final judgment of a District Court, whether in its original or appellate jurisdiction—

- (a) in an action or matter in which the sum sued for exceeds $10 000;
- (b) in an action for the recovery of possession of land of which the value exceeds $10 000;

District Courts Act 1967

- (c) in proceedings in interpleader in which the amount claimed or the value of the goods in question exceeds $10 000;
- (d) in an action or matter which before the commencement of the District Courts Act and Other Acts Amendment Act 1989 might have been commenced only in the Supreme Court unless the parties agreed to it being heard and determined in another jurisdiction;

may appeal to the Court of Appeal.

(2) Any party who is dissatisfied with a judgment of a District Court other than one hereinbefore mentioned in this section may by leave of the Court of Appeal or a Judge of Appeal appeal to the Court of Appeal.

(3) Such leave may be granted upon such terms as to security for costs or otherwise as the Court of Appeal or a Judge of Appeal may impose but such leave shall not be granted unless some important question of law or justice is involved.

(4) An appeal to the Court of Appeal from a judgment of a District Court in its original jurisdiction sitting without a jury shall be by way of rehearing—

- (a) where the sum sued for exceeds $20 000; and
- (b) where the action or matter is one which before the commencement of the District Courts Act and Other Acts Amendment Act 1989 might have been commenced only in the Supreme Court unless the parties agreed to it being heard and determined in another jurisdiction; and
- (c) where, in any other case whatsoever the Court of Appeal so orders.

Jurisdiction of Court of Appeal

119.(1) On the hearing of an appeal the Court of Appeal shall have power to draw inferences of fact from facts found by the judge or jury, or from admitted facts or facts not disputed provided that where the appeal is not by way of rehearing such inferences shall not be inconsistent with the findings of the judge or jury.

(2) On the hearing of any appeal the Court of Appeal—

- (a) may order a new trial on such terms as the court thinks just; and
- (b) may order judgment to be entered for any party, or may make any other order, on such terms as the Court of Appeal thinks proper, to ensure the determination on the merits of the real questions in controversy between the parties; and
- (c) may make such order with respect to the costs of the appeal as it thinks proper; and every such order shall be final.

Parties may agree not to appeal

120. An appeal shall not lie from the decision of a judge if, before the decision is pronounced, both parties agree, in writing signed by themselves or their solicitors or agents, that the decision of the judge shall be final.

Appeal against refusal to approve and revocation of approval as mediator or case appraiser

121. An appeal lies to the Court of Appeal, by leave of that court, against—

- (a) a refusal to approve a person as a mediator or case appraiser; or
- (b) the revocation of approval of a person as a mediator or case appraiser.

Special case

122. A Magistrates Court may not state in the form of a special case for the opinion of the Supreme Court any question of law arising in any case, but in lieu thereof may state in the form of a special case for the opinion of a District Court any such question of law, and the District Court shall have the same powers, authorities and duties as the Supreme Court had in respect of such a special case prior to the coming into force of the District Courts Act Amendment Act 1960.

PART 10—ENFORCEMENT OF JUDGMENTS

Action on judgment

123. An action may be brought in the Supreme Court upon a judgment in a District Court, but the plaintiff shall not recover any costs in such an action up to judgment unless the defendant appears and unsuccessfully defends the action.

Judgment to survive death

124. A judgment obtained by a plaintiff but not satisfied previous to the plaintiff's death and also all causes of action shall survive to the plaintiff's personal representative who may issue out execution in the representative's own name in the same way in which the plaintiff might have done.

Entry of Magistrates Court judgment

125.(1) Whenever any judgment has been entered in a Magistrates Court the registrar of that court shall, upon application made by the judgment creditor or any person on the creditor's behalf, grant and issue to the person making the application a certificate of such judgment and of the amount remaining due and unpaid thereon and shall make a minute of the grant of such certificate in the judgment book and in the execution book.

(2) No such certificate shall be granted—

- (a) before the expiration of any time during which execution could not be issued out of the Magistrates Court; or
- (b) until after the return of any warrant of execution issued out of the Magistrates Court under that judgment against the goods and chattels of the judgment debtor.

(3) After the issue of any such certificate no further proceedings by way of execution on such judgment shall be had or taken in the Magistrates Court.

(4) Any such certificate may be filed in a District Court and thereupon without any previous process final judgment may be entered in that court (from which judgment no appeal shall lie) for the sum mentioned in such certificate to be unpaid and all costs, fees and charges of obtaining the said certificate and entering such final judgment.

(5) Upon the entry of such judgment execution may be forthwith issued out of any District Court as for any other judgment of the said court.

PART 11—GENERAL PROVISIONS

Division 1—Rules of court

Rule making power

126.(1) The Governor in Council, with the agreement of the Chief Judge and 5 or more other judges, may make rules of court under this Act for a jurisdiction law.

(2) Without limiting subsection (1), a rule may make provision about any matter that—

- (a) is required or permitted to be prescribed under a jurisdiction law; or
- (b) is necessary or convenient to be prescribed for carrying out or giving effect to a jurisdiction law.

(3) Without limiting subsections (1) and (2), a rule may also make provision about—

- (a) the practices and procedures of District Courts and their registries; or
- (b) another matter mentioned in the schedule.

(4) In this section—

“jurisdiction law” means—

- (a) this Act; or
- (b) a District Courts jurisdiction Act; or
- (c) another law giving jurisdiction to District Courts.

Division 2—Fees and finesAmount of court fees

127.(1) A regulation may prescribe the fees to be paid in respect of civil proceedings in a District Court and the purposes for which and the documents in relation to which such fees shall be payable.

(2) The fees shall be paid in the first instance by the party on whose behalf the proceeding is to be taken, and shall be paid before the proceeding is taken, and the fees payable for executing warrants of execution shall be paid into court before or at the time of the issue of the process of execution.

(3) A table of the fees for the time being shall be put up in some conspicuous place in the court house and in the registrar's office.

Fees and fines to be paid to the consolidated fund

128. All fees payable in respect of any proceedings to the registrar, except such of them as the bailiff is entitled to receive and retain for the bailiff's own use, and all fines imposed under this Act and received by the registrar, shall be paid into the consolidated fund.

Division 3—OffencesContempt of court

129.(1) If any person—

- (a) wilfully insults a judge or a juror or a registrar, bailiff, or other officer of a Court, during the person's sitting or attendance in court, or in going to or returning from the Court; or
- (b) wilfully interrupts the proceedings of the Court or otherwise misbehaves himself or herself in court; or
- (c) unlawfully obstructs or assaults any person in attendance in court; or
- (d) without lawful excuse disobeys any lawful order or direction of the Court at the hearing of any proceeding;

District Courts Act 1967

the person shall be guilty of an offence and may be excluded from the room or other place in which the Court is sitting by order of the court, and may, whether the person is so excluded or not, be dealt with as provided hereinafter by this section.

(2) A bailiff or other officer may, with or without the assistance of any other persons, by order of the Court, take an offender against subsection (1)(a), (b) or (c) into custody and detain the offender until the rising of the court.

(3) If any person shall do any other act or thing which is a contempt of a District Court the person shall be guilty of an offence under this section.

(4) The court may order an offender under this section, whether the offender is excluded from the room or place in which the court is sitting or not or whether the offender is taken into custody or not, to be committed to prison for any period not exceeding 12 months, or may impose on the offender a fine not exceeding 84 penalty units, and in the latter event may also order that in default of payment the offender shall be committed to prison for any period not exceeding 12 months unless the fine is sooner paid.

(5) In imprisoning or fining an offender under subsection (4), there shall be no need to take any evidence on oath or issue any summons, but at any time before the rising of the court, the offender shall be called upon to show cause why the offender should not be punished.

*Division 4—GeneralExecutors

130. An executor or administrator may sue and be sued in a District Court in the same manner in which a person may sue or be sued in the person's own right, and in any such case judgment may be given and execution issued against the same persons against whom, and in the same manner in which, judgment would be given or execution issued in the Supreme Court.

DISTRICT COURTS ACT 1967

1. Section 36—

omit.

2. Part 3—

omit.

3. Section 63—

omit, insert—

‘Jury in criminal trials

‘63.(1) All indictable offences prosecuted in the Court must be tried by a judge and jury.

‘(2) The Jury Act 1995 states the law about the following—

- (a) the obligation to perform jury service;
- (b) organisation of juries generally;
- (c) the selection of a jury;
- (d) arrangements for a jury during a trial;
- (e) juror’s remuneration and allowances.

‘(3) Subsection (1) is subject to an Act that allows or requires an indictable offence prosecuted in the Court to be tried in another way.’.
