124. The tribunal may, in appropriate cases, allow a mediator to conduct a mediation by means of telephone conferencing, video conferencing or another form of communication that allows reasonably contemporaneous and continuous communication between persons taking part in the mediation.

Matters about mediation

125.(1) Anything said or done during the mediation process is inadmissible in any other proceeding of the tribunal.

(2) Despite subsection (1), if a building dispute is not settled at mediation, the mediator must obtain the following from each party and report them to the tribunal—

- (a) the issues each party considers are the issues in dispute; and
- (b) the orders each party seeks from the tribunal.

(3) In a hearing before the tribunal, the tribunal is not limited to considering the issues reported under subsection (2).

(4) If a building dispute is, or some of the issues in the dispute are, settled, the mediator must report the terms of the settlement to the tribunal.

(5) The tribunal may make a decision in terms of the settlement, and may make consequential orders or give consequential directions.

(6) If requested by the parties, the tribunal must ensure the terms of the settlement remain confidential and not be included in a register or other record available for inspection under this Act.

Mediator precluded from tribunal hearing

126.(1) If a mediator is a member of the tribunal, the member must not hear a proceeding before the tribunal about the dispute or review that was the subject of the mediation.

(2) Subsection (1) does not apply to a pre-hearing conference.

Time limit for mediation before expedited hearing

127. If the registrar has set a proceeding down for mediation followed on the same day by an expedited hearing the registrar must set a time limit of not more than 2.5 hours for the mediation.

Division 4—Expedited hearings

Expedited hearing of domestic building disputes

128.(1) The tribunal must decide a minor domestic building dispute at an expedited hearing if the dispute has been to mediation but has not been settled.

(2) However, the tribunal may decide it is inappropriate for the dispute to be decided at an expedited hearing if the tribunal considers the dispute is too complex to be properly dealt with at an expedited hearing.

Example of ‘too complex to be properly dealt with’—

The dispute involves complex legal and contractual issues for which the tribunal is unaware of any authoritative precedent.

(3) The tribunal may decide a domestic building dispute that is not a minor domestic building dispute at an expedited hearing only if—

- (a) all parties to the proceeding apply to the tribunal for the matter to be dealt with at an expedited hearing; and
- (b) the tribunal considers it appropriate for the dispute to be decided at an expedited hearing.

Certain minor commercial building disputes may be expedited

129.(1) The tribunal may conduct an expedited hearing for a minor commercial building dispute between a subcontractor and another person if—

- (a) neither the claim nor any counterclaim exceeds $10 000; and

- (b) the dispute relates only to a claim for moneys owing by a person to the subcontractor for building work completed by the subcontractor under a written contract; and
- (c) the subcontractor files an application for an expedited hearing, a copy of the contract and an affidavit by the subcontractor stating that—
 - (i) the building work under the contract has been completed by the subcontractor to the standard required under the contract; and
 - (ii) a claim for payment payable under the contract has been given to the other person by the subcontractor; and
 - (iii) the amount claimed by the subcontractor has not been paid by the other person; and
 - (iv) no complaint about the building work under the contract has been made to the subcontractor by the other person.

(2) A hearing under this section may proceed only if the subcontractor has given the other person a copy of the application and all documents filed by the subcontractor at least 5 days before the hearing.²⁵

Procedure for expedited hearing

130.(1) Before an expedited hearing each party to the hearing must, if directed by the tribunal—

- (a) file statements of witnesses, expert reports and other documents the party intends to rely on; and
- (b) exchange these with the other parties within the time limit set by the tribunal.

(2) At the expedited hearing—

- (a) cross-examination is at the discretion of the tribunal; and
- (b) the parties must, as directed by the tribunal, arrange for the attendance of witnesses, including expert witnesses to clarify or expand on evidence in the documents filed; and ²⁵ This provision had not commenced on or before the reprint date.

- (c) the tribunal may limit the time for the hearing and allocate the time equally between the parties.

Division 5—Summary decision

Summary decision for applicant

131.(1) An applicant who starts a proceeding in the tribunal for a matter mentioned in section 30(1)²⁶ may, at any time after a respondent serves a defence on the applicant, apply to the tribunal under this division for a decision in favour of the applicant (a “summary decision”).

(2) The tribunal may give the summary decision for the applicant for all or part of the relief claimed in the application if the tribunal is satisfied—

- (a) the applicant has complied with this division and is entitled to all or part of the relief sought in the application; and
- (b) the respondent has no defence other than in relation to the amount of the claim; and
- (c) there is no need for a hearing by the tribunal of the proceeding or of that part of the proceeding for which the summary decision is sought.

(3) However, if the amount of the claim can not be calculated, because, for example, there is insufficient evidence available to satisfy the tribunal of the amount of the claim, the tribunal may instead—

- (a) order the amount of the claim to be decided in the way the tribunal directs; and
- (b) give leave for the summary decision to be given for the amount decided and costs.

(4) A second or later application under this division may be made with the tribunal’s leave.

²⁶ Section 30 (Defence and counterclaim)

Summary decision for respondent

132.(1) The respondent against whom a proceeding is started by application in the tribunal may at any time apply to the tribunal under this division for a decision in favour of the respondent (also a “summary decision”).

(2) The tribunal may give the summary decision or make any other decision the tribunal considers appropriate if satisfied—

- (a) no reasonable cause of action is disclosed against the respondent; or
- (b) the proceeding is frivolous, vexatious or an abuse of the process of the tribunal; or
- (c) the respondent has a defence to the proceeding.

Claims not disposed of by summary decision

133. The giving of a summary decision under this division that does not dispose of all claims in issue in a proceeding (including a counterclaim) does not prevent the continuation of any part of the proceeding not disposed of by the summary decision.

Evidence

134.(1) In a proceeding under this division, evidence must be given by affidavit made by the party giving the evidence.

(2) Despite subsection (1), on the hearing of an application under this division, the tribunal may, on terms the tribunal considers appropriate, permit further evidence to be given by affidavit or otherwise by or for a party.

(3) The affidavit may contain statements of information and belief if the person making it states the sources of the information and the reasons for the belief.

(4) A party applying for a summary decision under this division must swear in support of the application that in the party’s belief the party against whom the summary decision is sought has no defence to the relief sought in the application.

(5) If a party to an application under this division intends to rely on a document, the document must be identified in the affidavit.

(6) A person who makes an affidavit to be read in an application under this division may not be cross-examined without the leave of the tribunal.

(7) An affidavit giving evidence in defence of a party's claim must identify the parts of the claim for which the evidence is claimed to be a defence.

Service

135. Subject to section 134(2), a party applying for a summary decision against another party must serve the other party with the application and a copy of each affidavit and any exhibits mentioned in the affidavit at least 4 business days before the date for hearing shown on the application.

Examination of parties and witnesses

136. The tribunal may order any of the following to attend the tribunal to be examined on oath or to produce to the tribunal all relevant documents and records—

- (a) a party applying for a summary decision;
- (b) a party defending the application for a summary decision;
- (c) a person who made an affidavit for a party;
- (d) a witness for a party;
- (e) for an incorporated party, an officer of the corporation.

Directions

137.(1) This section applies if—

- (a) the tribunal dismisses an application for a summary decision; or
- (b) a summary decision does not dispose of all claims in a proceeding.

(2) The tribunal may give directions or impose conditions about the future conduct of the proceeding.

Costs

138.(1) This section applies if it appears to the tribunal that a party who applied for a summary decision was, or ought reasonably to have been, aware that another party relied on a point that would entitle the other party to have the application dismissed.

(2) The tribunal may dismiss the application and order costs to be paid within a time specified by the tribunal.

(3) Subsection (2) does not limit the tribunal's powers relating to costs.

Stay of enforcement

139.(1) The tribunal may order a stay of the enforcement of a summary decision given under this division for the time and on the terms the tribunal considers appropriate.

(2) If a summary decision has been registered in a court under section 85,²⁷ a stay of that decision has no effect until it is filed in the court.

Setting aside summary decision

140. The tribunal may set aside or vary a summary decision given against a party who did not appear on the hearing of the application for the decision.

Division 6—Case appraisals

Referral to case appraiser

141.(1) The tribunal may refer a proceeding to a person (the “case appraiser”) to decide all issues in dispute between the parties.

(2) The tribunal may act under subsection (1) only if all parties to the proceeding apply to the tribunal to have the proceeding referred to a case appraiser.

²⁷ Section 85 (Registration and enforcement of decisions)

(3) If all the parties to a proceeding request the tribunal to appoint a particular case appraiser, the tribunal may appoint that case appraiser.

(4) If there is an additional cost in appointing a case appraiser under subsection (3) when compared with the cost of a case appraiser not requested by the parties, the additional cost must be paid by the parties.

(5) The case appraiser may be a member of the tribunal or another person.

(6) The tribunal may appoint a person as case appraiser only if the tribunal considers the person has suitable qualifications and experience to be a case appraiser.

Jurisdiction of case appraiser

142.(1) The case appraiser for the proceeding referred has the power of the tribunal to decide the issues in dispute but may only give a decision that could have been given in the proceeding if it had been decided by the tribunal.

(2) Subsection (1) is subject to section 150.²⁸

Procedure for case appraisals

143. The case appraiser for a proceeding—

- (a) must consider all documents filed and served on the parties to the proceeding; and
- (b) unless the case appraiser considers it necessary to clarify or expand on evidence in the documents being considered, must conduct the case appraisal—
 - (i) in the absence of the parties; and
 - (ii) without oral evidence from witnesses; and
- (c) if the case appraiser allows parties to be present, must not allow cross-examination unless the case appraiser considers it necessary

²⁸ Section 150 (Dissatisfied party may elect to go to hearing of tribunal) to clarify or expand on evidence in the documents being considered.

Case appraiser may seek information

144.(1) A case appraiser may ask anyone for information and may obtain, and act on, information obtained from anyone on any aspect of the proceeding.

(2) However, if obtaining the information involves extra cost, the case appraiser must first obtain—

- (a) the parties' agreement to pay the extra cost; or
- (b) the tribunal's leave.

(3) If the tribunal gives leave, the tribunal must also—

- (a) order the parties to pay the extra cost; and
- (b) state to whom and by when the payment must be made.

(4) The case appraiser must disclose the substance of the information to the parties.

Case appraisal may be recorded

145.(1) A case appraiser may have the case appraisal recorded if the case appraiser considers it appropriate, in the special circumstances of the case.

(2) If the case appraisal is to be recorded, the case appraiser must decide the extent to which, and the way in which, the recording may be done.

Case appraiser's decision

146.(1) A case appraiser's decision must be in writing, but the case appraiser need not give reasons for the decision.

(2) However, a case appraiser may, at any stage of a case appraisal decline to proceed further with the appraisal.

Example for subsection (2)—

The dispute proves to be unsuitable for case appraisal.

(3) A copy of the decision must be given to each party.

Case appraiser's decision on costs in the dispute

147.(1) A case appraiser has the same power to award costs in the dispute as the tribunal would have had if the tribunal had heard and decided the dispute.

(2) A case appraiser's decision must include a decision on costs in the dispute.

Case appraiser's decision final unless election made

148. A case appraiser's decision about a dispute is final, unless an election to have the dispute heard by the tribunal is made under section 150.

Case appraiser to file report and decision

149.(1) As soon as practicable after a case appraisal has finished, the case appraiser must file—

- (a) a report about the case appraisal; and
- (b) the case appraiser's decision, if any; and
- (c) if the case appraisal was recorded, a copy of the record.

(2) If the case appraiser makes a decision about the dispute or any issue in the dispute, the case appraiser must—

- (b) mark the container with a distinguishing number; and
- (c) endorse the container 'Not to be opened without an order of the tribunal'; and
- (d) file the container.

(3) The container may be opened only if the tribunal orders it to be opened.

(4) No fee is payable for filing anything under this section.

Dissatisfied party may elect to go to hearing of tribunal

150.(1) A party who is dissatisfied with a case appraiser's decision about a dispute may elect to have the dispute heard by the tribunal.

(2) To elect to have a dispute heard by the tribunal, the dissatisfied party must file an election within 14 days after the party receives a copy of the decision.

(3) If an election is filed as mentioned in subsection (1)—

- (a) the case appraiser's decision ceases to have effect except for section 151; and
- (b) the dispute must be decided by the tribunal as if it had never been referred to the case appraiser.

(4) To remove doubt, it is declared that anything said or done during the case appraisal is inadmissible in the hearing of the dispute by the tribunal.

Case appraiser's decision may affect costs

151.(1) If the tribunal's decision in the dispute is not more favourable overall to a party filing an election than the case appraiser's decision in the dispute was to the party, the costs of the proceeding including the case appraisal must be awarded against the party.

(2) If all parties to a dispute elect to have the dispute heard by the tribunal, the case appraiser's decision has no effect on the awarding of costs.

Division 7—Pre-hearing conferencesPre-hearing conferences
