Information about this reprint

This Act is reprinted as at 1 January 2009. The reprint shows the law as amended by all amendments that commenced on or before that day (Reprints Act 1992 s 5(c)).

The reprint includes a reference to the law by which each amendment was made—see list of legislation and list of annotations in endnotes. Also see list of legislation for any uncommenced amendments.

This page is specific to this reprint. See previous reprints for information about earlier changes made under the Reprints Act 1992. A table of earlier reprints is included in the endnotes.

Also see endnotes for information about—

- when provisions commenced
- editorial changes made in earlier reprints.

Spelling

The spelling of certain words or phrases may be inconsistent in this reprint or with other reprints because of changes made in various editions of the Macquarie Dictionary (for example, in the dictionary, ‘lodgement’ has replaced ‘lodgment’). Variations of spelling will be updated in the next authorised reprint.

Dates shown on reprints

Reprints dated at last amendment All reprints produced on or after 1 July 2002, authorised (that is, hard copy) and unauthorised (that is, electronic), are dated as at the last date of amendment. Previously reprints were dated as at the date of publication. If an authorised reprint is dated earlier than an unauthorised version published before 1 July 2002, it means the legislation was not further amended and the reprint date is the commencement of the last amendment.

If the date of an authorised reprint is the same as the date shown for an unauthorised version previously published, it merely means that the unauthorised version was published before the authorised version. Also, any revised edition of the previously published unauthorised version will have the same date as that version.

Replacement reprint date If the date of an authorised reprint is the same as the date shown on another authorised reprint it means that one is the replacement of the other.

An Act about the safe management in Queensland of the storage and handling of hazardous materials, particularly dangerous goods and combustible liquids, and the management of major hazard facilities and emergencies involving hazardous materials, and for other purposes

Part 1 Preliminary

Division 1 Introduction

1 Short title

This Act may be cited as the Dangerous Goods Safety Management Act 2001.

2 Commencement

This Act commences on a day to be fixed by proclamation.

Division 2 Application and operation of Act

3 Application of Act

- (1) This Act, other than part 7 and the other provisions of the Act relevant to that part, does not apply to—
 - (a) a coal mine to which the Coal Act applies; or
 - (b) a mine to which the Mines Act applies; or

Dangerous Goods Safety Management Act 2001

- (c) land that, under the Petroleum Act 1923 or the Petroleum and Gas (Production and Safety) Act 2004, is used to obtain, produce or transport petroleum; or
 - (d) pipes under the Petroleum and Gas (Production and Safety) Act 2004 (other than pipes within the boundaries of a major hazard facility or dangerous goods location).
- (2) If this Act conflicts with any of the following Acts, that Act prevails, but only to the extent of the conflict—
- (a) Explosives Act 1999;
 - (b) Petroleum and Gas (Production and Safety) Act 2004;
 - (c) Radiation Safety Act 1999.
- (3) If—
- (a) this Act imposes a safety obligation on a person; and
 - (b) the Petroleum and Gas (Production and Safety) Act 2004, the Explosives Act 1999 or the Radiation Safety Act 1999 imposes an obligation on the person or another person that is at least equivalent to the safety obligation;
- compliance with the obligation under the Petroleum and Gas (Production and Safety) Act 2004, the Explosives Act 1999 or the Radiation Safety Act 1999 is taken, for this Act, to be compliance with the safety obligation.
- (4) However, subsection (3) does not apply to safety obligations relating to a major hazard facility.

4 Act binds all persons

This Act binds all persons, including the State, and, so far as the legislative power of the Parliament permits, the Commonwealth and the other States.

5 What does this Act apply to

This Act applies to—

- (a) the storage and handling of hazardous materials, particularly dangerous goods and combustible liquids; and

- (b) the operation of major hazard facilities; and
- (c) the provision of advice and help for emergencies involving hazardous materials.

6 Who does this Act apply to

Subject to section 3, this Act applies to everyone who as a result of the storage or handling of hazardous materials at a place may affect the safety of persons or harm property or the environment.

Division 3 Objective of Act

7 Objective of Act

- (1) The objective of this Act is to protect the safety of persons, and prevent harm to property and the environment, from hazardous materials.
- (2) More particularly, this Act—
 - (a) establishes requirements for—
 - (i) the safe storage and handling of dangerous goods and combustible liquids; and
 - (ii) the safe operation of major hazard facilities; and
 - (b) authorises the giving of advice and help in hazardous materials emergencies.

Division 4 Interpretation

8 Definitions

9 Meaning of dangerous goods

Goods are dangerous goods if they are defined under the ADG Code as—

- (a) dangerous goods; or
- (b) goods too dangerous to be transported.

10 Meaning of environment

The environment includes—

- (a) ecosystems and their constituent parts; and
- (b) all natural and physical resources; and
- (c) the qualities and characteristics of locations, places and areas, however large or small, that contribute to their biological diversity and integrity, intrinsic or attributed scientific value or interest, amenity, harmony and sense of community; and
- (d) the social, economic, aesthetic and cultural conditions that affect, or are affected by, things mentioned in paragraphs (a) to (c).

11 Meaning of hazard

A hazard is a thing or a situation with potential to cause harm to a person, property or the environment.

12 Meaning of hazardous material

- (1) A hazardous material is a substance with potential to cause harm to persons, property or the environment because of 1 or more of the following—
 - (a) the chemical properties of the substance;
 - (b) the physical properties of the substance;
 - (c) the biological properties of the substance.
- (2) Without limiting subsection (1), all dangerous goods, combustible liquids and chemicals are hazardous materials.

13 Meaning of major accident

Major accident means a sudden occurrence (including, in particular, a major emission, loss of containment, fire, explosion or release of energy) leading to serious danger or serious harm to persons, property or the environment, whether immediate or delayed.

14 Meaning of occupier

Occupier, of a major hazard facility, dangerous goods location, facility or other place, means an employer, or other person, who has overall management of the major hazard facility, dangerous goods location, facility or place.

15 Meaning of risk

Part 2 Safety obligations

Division 1 Preliminary

16 Obligations for safety

- (1) Everyone involved with the storage or handling of hazardous materials or with storage or handling systems at any place who may affect the safety of persons or may harm property at any place or the environment has the following obligations (safety obligations)—
 - (a) to comply with this Act;
 - (b) to take all reasonable precautions and care to achieve an acceptable level of risk.
- (2) In addition to their obligations under subsection (1), the following persons have obligations under division 2 (also safety obligations)—
 - (a) the occupier of a major hazard facility or dangerous goods location;

- (b) an employee or other person at a major hazard facility or dangerous goods location;
 - (c) a manufacturer, importer or supplier of dangerous goods;
 - (d) a designer, manufacturer, importer or supplier of storage or handling systems for use at a major hazard facility or dangerous goods location;
 - (e) an installer of storage or handling systems at a major hazard facility or dangerous goods location.
- (3) In addition to the obligations of the occupier of a major hazard facility under subsections (1) and (2), the occupier has the obligations under part 4 (also safety obligations).
- (4) In addition to the obligations of the occupier of a dangerous goods location under subsections (1) and (2), the occupier has the obligations under part 5 (also safety obligations).

17 What is an acceptable level of risk

- (1) An acceptable level of risk is achieved when risk is minimised as far as reasonably practicable.
- (2) To decide whether risk is minimised as far as reasonably practicable, regard must be had to—
- (a) the likelihood of harm to a person, property or the environment related to the risk; and
 - (b) the severity of the harm.
- (3) The acceptable level of risk may be prescribed under a regulation in terms of the likelihood and the severity of the consequences of the risk or in another way.
- (4) The assessment of risk to decide its acceptability must take account of good industry practice and compliance with recognised standards if—
- (a) a regulation does not prescribe an acceptable level for risk or set performance objectives and measures for the avoidance, reduction or monitoring of risk; or
 - (b) it is not practicable in the circumstances to calculate or estimate the level of risk.

18 Discharge of obligations

- (1) A person on whom a safety obligation is imposed must discharge the obligation.

Maximum penalty—

- (a) if the contravention causes multiple deaths and serious harm to property or the environment—3000 penalty units or 3 years imprisonment; or
 - (b) if the contravention causes multiple deaths—2000 penalty units or 3 years imprisonment; or
 - (c) if the contravention causes death or grievous bodily harm—1000 penalty units or 2 years imprisonment; or
 - (d) if the contravention involves exposure to a substance likely to cause death or grievous bodily harm—750 penalty units or 1 year's imprisonment; or
 - (e) if the contravention causes bodily harm—750 penalty units or 1 year's imprisonment; or
 - (f) if the contravention causes serious harm to property or the environment—750 penalty units or 6 months imprisonment; or
 - (g) if paragraphs (a) to (f) and subsection (3) do not apply—500 penalty units.
- (2) Subsection (3) applies if—
- (a) a person is alleged to have contravened subsection (1) (the alleged offence); and
 - (b) it is alleged the safety obligation the person did not discharge is the obligation to comply with this Act; and
 - (c) the provision of the Act (the Act provision) to which the failure relates provides for a penalty for a contravention of the Act provision; and
 - (d) a circumstance of aggravation mentioned in paragraphs (a) to (f) of the penalty in subsection (1) is not proved for the alleged offence.
- (3) The maximum penalty that can be imposed for the alleged offence is the monetary penalty for the Act provision.

19 Person may owe obligations in more than 1 capacity

A person on whom a safety obligation is imposed may be subject to more than 1 safety obligation.

Example—

A person may be both a designer of storage or handling systems and also the occupier of a major hazard facility and be subject to safety obligations in each capacity.

20 Person not relieved of obligations merely because other person has same obligations

To remove doubt, it is declared that the imposition of a safety obligation on a person does not relieve another person of the other person's safety obligations under this Act.

21 How obligation can be discharged if regulation or recognised standard made

- (1) If a regulation prescribes a way of achieving an acceptable level of risk, a person may discharge the person's safety obligation relating to the risk only by following the prescribed way.
- (2) If a regulation prohibits exposure to a risk, a person may discharge the person's safety obligation relating to the risk only by ensuring the prohibition is not contravened.
- (3) Subject to subsections (1) and (2), if a recognised standard states a way of achieving an acceptable level of risk, a person may discharge the person's safety obligation relating to the risk only by—
 - (a) adopting and following a stated way; or
 - (b) adopting and following another way that achieves a level of risk equal to or lower than the acceptable level.¹

22 How obligations can be discharged if no regulation or recognised standard made

- (1) This section applies if there is no regulation or recognised standard prescribing or stating a way to discharge a person's safety obligation relating to a risk.

- (2) The person may choose an appropriate way to discharge the person's safety obligation relating to the risk.
- (3) However, the person discharges the person's safety obligation relating to the risk only if the person takes reasonable precautions, and exercises proper diligence, to ensure the obligation is discharged.

Division 2 Obligations of occupiers and others

23 Obligations of occupiers

- (1) The occupier of a major hazard facility or dangerous goods location has the following obligations—
 - (a) as far as practicable, to minimise the risk associated with the major hazard facility or dangerous goods location by—
 - (i) eliminating or minimising hazards at the facility or location; and
 - (ii) implementing measures to minimise the likelihood of a major accident at the facility or location; and
 - (iii) implementing measures to limit the consequences if a major accident happens at the facility or location;
 - (b) to ensure the safety of the occupier and employees while at the major hazard facility or dangerous goods location, including, for example, by providing and maintaining a safe place of work including safe storage or handling systems;
 - (c) to record or be able to demonstrate the way the occupier has complied with the occupier's obligations under paragraphs (a) and (b);
 - (d) in consultation with the employees at the facility or location, to provide appropriate induction, information, supervision, education and training to all persons at the

Dangerous Goods Safety Management Act 2001

- facility or location so that the persons may carry out their roles and duties safely;
- (e) to develop, implement and maintain a safety management system for the facility or location.
- (2) The occupier of a major hazard facility or large dangerous goods location also has the following obligations—
- (a) in consultation with the employees at the facility or location, to establish, maintain and document emergency plans and procedures to—
 - (i) contain and control a hazardous materials emergency happening at the facility or location; and
 - (ii) minimise the effect of the emergency on persons, property and the environment;
 - (b) in consultation with the employees at the facility or location, to review and update emergency plans and procedures before any modification of the facility or location that would significantly alter the risk associated with the facility or location.

24 Obligations of employees and other persons

An employee or other person at a major hazard facility or dangerous goods location has the following obligations—

- (a) to comply with procedures applying to the employee or other person that are part of a safety management system for the facility or location;
- (b) to comply with instructions given for the safety of persons by the occupier of the facility or location or a supervisor at the facility or location;
- (c) to report to a supervisor at the facility or location any matter at the facility or location that may lead to or cause a major accident;
- (d) to take any other reasonable and necessary course of action at the facility or location to ensure no-one is exposed to an unacceptable level of risk.

25 Obligations of manufacturers, importers and suppliers of dangerous goods

- (1) A manufacturer, importer or supplier of dangerous goods has the following obligations—
 - (a) to ensure the dangerous goods are in a condition that is safe for storage and handling;
 - (b) to ensure appropriate information about the safe storage and handling of the dangerous goods is provided with, or before the receipt of, the dangerous goods.
- (2) For subsection (1)(b), information is appropriate if the information clearly identifies the dangerous goods and states—
 - (a) the precautions to be taken for the safe storage and handling of the dangerous goods; and
 - (b) the hazards associated with the storage and handling of the dangerous goods.

26 Obligations of designers, manufacturers, importers, suppliers and installers of storage or handling systems

- (1) A designer or importer of a storage or handling system for use at a major hazard facility or dangerous goods location has an obligation to ensure the system is designed so that, when used properly, the risk to persons, property or the environment from the use of the system is at an acceptable level of risk.
- (2) A manufacturer or importer of a storage or handling system for use at a major hazard facility or dangerous goods location has an obligation to ensure the system is constructed so that, when used properly, the risk to persons, property or the environment from the use of the system is at an acceptable level of risk.
- (3) A designer, manufacturer, importer or supplier of a storage or handling system for use at a major hazard facility or dangerous goods location must take all reasonable steps to ensure appropriate information about the safe use of the system is available to the occupier of the facility or location, including information about the maintenance necessary for the safe use of the system.

- (4) For subsection (3), information is appropriate if the information states—
 - (a) the use for which the storage or handling system has been designed and tested; and
 - (b) any conditions that must be complied with if the system is to be used safely so that risk to persons, property or the environment is at an acceptable level of risk.
- (5) An installer of a storage or handling system at a major hazard facility or dangerous goods location has an obligation to install the system in a way so that when the system is used properly, the risk to persons, property or the environment is at an acceptable level of risk.
