agistment—by increasing the number of stock that may agist on the common.

- (2) The controller must apply the varied carrying capacity in a way that ensures, as far as is reasonably practicable, no existing or prospective agistment approval holder is treated more favourably than any other approval holder.
- (3) Subsection (1)(b) does not authorise the controller to increase a person's agistment approval beyond 20 head of stock.

31 Notice of varied carrying capacity
