Information about this reprint

This reprint shows the legislation current as at the date on the cover and is authorised by the Parliamentary Counsel.

A new reprint of the legislation will be prepared by the Office of the Queensland Parliamentary Counsel when any change to the legislation takes effect. This change may be because a provision of the original legislation, or an amendment to it, commences or because a particular provision of the legislation expires or is repealed.

When a new reprint is prepared, this reprint will become a historical reprint. Also, if it is necessary to replace this reprint before a new reprint is prepared, for example, to include amendments with a retrospective commencement, an appropriate note would be included on the cover of the replacement reprint and on the copy of this reprint at www.legislation.qld.gov.au.

The endnotes to this reprint contain detailed information about the legislation and reprint. For example—

- The table of reprints endnote lists any previous reprints and, for this reprint, gives details of any discretionary editorial powers under the Reprints Act 1992 used by the Office of the Queensland Parliamentary Counsel in preparing it.
- The list of legislation endnote gives historical information about the original legislation and the legislation which amended it. It also gives details of uncommenced amendments to this legislation. For information about possible amendments to the legislation by Bills introduced in Parliament, see the Queensland Legislation Current Annotations at www.legislation.qld.gov.au/Leg_Info/information.htm.
- The list of annotations endnote gives historical information at section level.

All Queensland reprints are dated and authorised by the Parliamentary Counsel. The previous numbering system and distinctions between printed and electronic reprints are not continued.

 - (i) if emergency care is being provided to 2 or more children in the same family—that number of children; or

 - (b) to replace an existing nominee for the licence; or
 - (c) subject to subsection (1), to remove an existing nominee for the licence.
- (5) If, for a licence held by a corporation, the only nominee dies or all nominees die, the licensee must immediately apply under this Act to amend the licence to appoint a stated individual as a nominee.
- (6) A reference in this Act to the nominee for a licence is, for a licence with more than 1 nominee, a reference to each of the nominees.

35 Purposes and effect of appointment of nominee

- (1) The purposes of requiring a licence held by a corporation to have a nominee are—
 - (a) to help ensure the licensed service is conducted in compliance with this Act; and
 - (b) to help communication between the chief executive and the licensee.
- (2) The appointment of a nominee for a licence does not affect the licensee's responsibility to ensure the licensed service is conducted in compliance with this Act.
- (3) If this Act requires or permits the chief executive to give a notice to a licensee, the chief executive may, for a licence held by a corporation, give the notice to the licensee by giving it to a nominee for the licence.

- (3) Otherwise, a change of the licensee, or any of the licensees, of a child care service may be made only by an application to transfer the licence for the service, not by an application to amend the licence.

42 Amendment of licence by chief executive

- (1) The chief executive may amend a licence at any time without receiving an application from the licensee for the amendment.

Example—

The chief executive may change a condition of the licence for a centre based service, or impose a new condition, so that—

- (1) The chief executive may suspend or revoke a licence at any time if the chief executive is satisfied—

127 Definition for sdiv 4

In this subdivision—

owner, of a seized thing, includes the person entitled to possession of it.

128 Seizing evidence after entry without consent or warrant

An authorised officer who enters a place that may be entered under this part without the occupier's consent and without a warrant may seize a thing at the place if the officer reasonably believes the thing is evidence of an offence against this Act.

129 Seizing evidence after entry with consent or warrant

- (1) This section applies if an authorised officer—
 - (a) is authorised to enter a place under this part only with the consent of the occupier or a warrant; and
 - (b) enters the place after obtaining the necessary consent or warrant.
- (2) If the authorised officer enters the place with the occupier's consent, the officer may seize a thing at the place if—
 - (a) the officer reasonably believes the thing is evidence of an offence against this Act; and
 - (b) seizure of the thing is consistent with the purpose of entry as told to the occupier when asking for the occupier's consent.
- (3) If the authorised officer enters the place with a warrant, the officer may seize the evidence for which the warrant was issued.
- (4) The authorised officer may seize anything else at the place if the officer reasonably believes—
 - (a) the thing is evidence of an offence against this Act; and
 - (b) the seizure is necessary to prevent the thing being hidden, lost, destroyed or used to continue or repeat the offence.

[s 130]

- (5) Also, the authorised officer may seize a thing at the place if the officer reasonably believes it has just been used in committing an offence against this Act.

130 Receipts for seized things

- (1) As soon as practicable after seizing a thing, an authorised officer must give a receipt for it to the person from whom it was seized.
- (2) However, if for any reason it is not practicable to comply with subsection (1), the authorised officer must leave the receipt at the place of seizure in a conspicuous position and in a reasonably secure way.
- (3) The receipt must describe generally each thing seized and its condition.
- (4) This section does not apply to a thing if it is impracticable, or would be unreasonable, to give the receipt, having regard to the thing's nature, condition and value.

131 Forfeiture of seized things

- (1) A thing that has been seized under this part is forfeited to the State if the authorised officer who seized the thing—
- (a) can not find its owner, after making the inquiries (if any) that are reasonable in all the circumstances; or
- (b) can not return it to its owner, after making the efforts (if any) that are reasonable in all the circumstances.

Example for paragraph (b)—

It may be unreasonable for an authorised officer to make an effort to return a seized thing to its owner if the owner has migrated to another country.

- (2) Regard must be had to a thing's nature, condition and value in deciding—
- (a) whether it is reasonable to make inquiries or efforts; and

- (b) if making inquiries or efforts, what inquiries or efforts, including the period over which they are made, are reasonable.
- (3) On the forfeiture of a thing to the State, the thing becomes the State's property and may be dealt with by the chief executive as the chief executive considers appropriate.
- (4) Without limiting subsection (3), the chief executive may destroy or dispose of the thing.
- (5) Despite subsection (3), the chief executive must not deal with the thing in a way that could prejudice the outcome of—
 - (a) a review by QCAT under this Act; or
 - (b) an appeal, relevant to the thing, of which the chief executive is aware.

132 Return of seized things

- (1) If a seized thing is not forfeited, the authorised officer must return it to its owner—
 - (a) at the end of 6 months; or
 - (b) if a proceeding for an offence involving the thing is started within 6 months—at the end of the proceeding and any appeal from the proceeding.
- (2) Despite subsection (1), unless the thing is forfeited, the authorised officer must immediately return it to its owner if the officer stops being satisfied—
 - (a) its continued retention as evidence is necessary; or
 - (b) its continued retention is necessary to prevent the thing being used to continue, or repeat, the offence.

133 Access to seized things

- (1) Until a seized thing is forfeited or returned, an authorised officer must allow its owner to inspect it and, if it is a document, to copy it.

[s 134]

- (2) Subsection (1) does not apply if it is impracticable, or would be unreasonable, to allow the inspection or copying.

Subdivision 5 Power to obtain information

134 Power to require name and address

- (1) This section applies if—
- (a) an authorised officer finds a person committing an offence against this Act; or
 - (b) an authorised officer finds a person in circumstances that lead, or has information that leads, the officer to reasonably suspect the person is committing, or has just committed, an offence against this Act.
- (2) The authorised officer may require the person to state the person's name and residential address.
- (3) The authorised officer may require the person to give evidence of the correctness of the stated name or residential address if the officer reasonably suspects the stated name or address to be false.
- (4) A person of whom a requirement is made under this section must comply with the requirement, unless the person has a reasonable excuse.
- Maximum penalty—50 penalty units.
- (5) A person does not commit an offence against subsection (4) if—
- (a) the person was required, by an authorised officer who suspected the person was committing, or had committed, an offence against this Act, to state the person's name and residential address or to give evidence of the correctness of the stated name or residential address; and
 - (b) the person is not proved to have committed the offence.

135 Power to require evidence of age, name and address of person suspected of being underage carer

- (1) This section applies if an authorised officer reasonably suspects—

 - (b) a person—
 - (i) is a carer in the service; and
 - (ii) is not an adult.
- (2) The authorised officer may require the person to state the person's correct date of birth, whether or not when requiring the person to state the person's correct name and address.
- (3) Also, the authorised officer may require the person to give evidence of the correctness of the stated date of birth if, in the circumstances, it would be reasonable to expect the person to be in possession of evidence of the correctness of the stated date of birth or to otherwise be able to give the evidence.
- (4) The authorised officer may require the person to state the person's name and residential address if—
 - (a) the person refuses, or is unable, to comply with a requirement under subsection (2) or (3); or
 - (b) according to the date of birth the person states, or the evidence of the person's age the person gives, the person is a child.
- (5) A person of whom a requirement is made under this section must comply with the requirement, unless the person has a reasonable excuse.

- (d) if the person is conducting a child care service—a current positive prescribed notice or current positive exemption notice held by the person.
 - (2) The authorised officer may keep the document to copy it.
 - (3) If the authorised officer copies a document mentioned in subsection (1)(a), or an entry in the document, the officer may require the person responsible for keeping the document to certify the copy as a true copy of the document or entry.

Maximum penalty—50 penalty units.
- (2) Despite section 144, if the requirement relates to a person's licence or a document required to be kept by the person under this Act, it is not a reasonable excuse for an individual not to comply with the requirement that complying with the requirement might tend to incriminate the individual.
- (3) Subsection (1) applies to a requirement under section 137(1)(c) only if the person is conducting a stand alone service when the requirement is made.

Subdivision 6 Monitoring suitability of relevant persons

139 Suitability of persons in home in which stand alone child care is provided

- (2) When asking the carer to apply for the prescribed notice or exemption notice, the authorised officer must warn the carer that, if the carer does not make the application within 14 days, the officer may give a direction that child care must not be provided in the home.
- (3) Subsection (4) applies if—

- (5) If, at any time, an authorised officer learns that each occupant of a home in relation to whom a request has been made under subsection (1) has a current positive prescribed notice or current positive exemption notice, the officer must cancel each notice given under subsection (4) in relation to the home.
- (6) If an authorised officer cancels a notice given to a person under subsection (4), the officer must notify the person of the cancellation as soon as is practicable unless, after making reasonable inquiries, the officer can not locate the person.
