	(a) the self-insurer, after the change, meets the requirements for a licence for a group employer; and	25 26
	(b) satisfactory arrangements have been made in relation to the total of the residual liability and outstanding liability (“ total liability ”) of the member or members leaving.	27 28 29

*WorkCover Queensland and Other Acts
Amendment*

- ‘(3) However, subsection (4) applies if— 1
- (a) the application is made by a self-insurer that is a related bodies 2 corporate group employer; and 3
 - (b) within 2 months after the application, members of the self-insurer 4 that are a group employer apply, under section 99 (the 5 “section 99 application”), to be a self-insurer as a related bodies 6 corporate group employer. 7
- ‘(4) WorkCover must approve the application if it is satisfied that the 8
self-insurer, after the change, meets the requirements for a licence for a 9 group employer and— 10
- (a) WorkCover has decided to approve the section 99 application; or 11
 - (b) if WorkCover has decided not to approve the section 99 12 application, it is satisfied that satisfactory arrangements have been 13 made in relation to the total liability of the applicants for the 14
section 99 application. 15
- ‘Consequences of change in self-insurer’s membership 16
- ‘118A.(1) If a member leaves a self-insurer that is a group employer and 17 becomes part of another self-insurer (the “other self-insurer”), the 18 self-insurer must pay the other self-insurer an amount for the member’s 19
total liability. 20
- ‘(2) For subsection (1), the other self-insurer is liable for compensation 21 and damages for the member’s total liability from the day WorkCover 22 approves the application from the other self-insurer for a change in its group 23
membership. 24
- ‘(3) If members leave a self-insurer that is a related bodies corporate 25 group employer and become a self-insurer that is a related bodies corporate 26 group employer (the “new self-insurer”), the self-insurer must pay the 27 new self-insurer an amount for the members’ total liability. 28
- ‘(4) For subsection (3), the new self-insurer is liable for compensation 29 and damages for its total liability from the day WorkCover approves the 30 new self-insurer’s application to be a self-insurer. 31
- ‘(5) If a member leaves a self-insurer that is a group employer and does 32

*WorkCover Queensland and Other Acts
Amendment*

not become part of another self-insurer, the self-insurer must pay WorkCover an amount for the member's total liability.

'(6) For subsection (5), WorkCover is liable for compensation and damages for the member's total liability from the day WorkCover approves the application for a change in the group membership.

'(7) If an employer becomes part of a self-insurer, other than under subsection (1), WorkCover must pay the self-insurer an amount for the employer's total liability.

'(8) For subsection (7), the self-insurer is liable for compensation and damages for the employer's total liability from the day WorkCover approves the application for a change in the group membership.

'(9) The total liability mentioned in subsection (1), (3), (5) or (7) must be—

- (a) calculated in the way prescribed under a regulation by an actuary approved by WorkCover; and
- (b) paid within the time allowed under a regulation.

'Continuation of membership in particular circumstances

'118B. If there is a change in the membership of a self-insurer that is a group employer, it is declared that each member of the group immediately before the change is taken to continue as a member of the group for the purposes of the Act until WorkCover approves an application for a change in the group membership on the licence under section 118.'

Clause	53. Sections 73 to 75—	2
	omit, insert—	3
	‘Meaning of “cost” of building and construction work	4
	‘73.(1) The “cost” of building and construction work is the total of all costs that relate to the work directly or indirectly.	5 6
	Examples of costs—	7
	Costs of labour, materials, plant, equipment, design, project management, consultancy, prefabricated goods, commissioning, installation.	8 9
	‘(2) Without limiting subsection (1), the total of all costs may be ascertained having regard to—	10 11
	(a) the contract price for the work; or	12
	(b) if the work is being done for someone other than the Commonwealth and involves more than 1 contract, the total of the contract prices.	13 14 15
	‘(3) Despite subsections (1) and (2), if there is no contract price or the authority is satisfied that the contract price, or the total of the contract prices, for carrying out the building and construction work does not accurately establish the total of all costs that relate to the work, the cost may be decided by the authority.	16 17 18 19 20
	‘Liability for levy	21
	‘74. Levy for building and construction work must be paid by—	22
	(a) if the work is being done for the Commonwealth—the contractor engaged by the Commonwealth to carry out the work; or	23 24
	(b) if the work is being done for a local government, government entity or non-Queensland government entity—the local government or entity; or	25 26 27
	(c) if neither paragraph (a) nor (b) applies and under the Integrated Planning Act 1997 an application is made to the assessment manager in relation to the work for a development permit for building work, plumbing or drainage work or operational work as	28 29 30 31
