‘20A Exemptions for on-suppliers	12 13
‘If an on-supplier complies with subdivisions 3 to 7, the on-supplier is exempted from sections 88A and 89. ¹	14 15
‘Subdivision 3—On-supply agreements
‘20B On-supply agreement	17
‘(1) An on-supplier and a receiver may agree about how—	18
(a) the on-supplier is to supply electricity to the receiver; or	19

(b) made in any way permitted by law; or	1
(c) incorporated in a lease or other agreement between the on-supplier and the receiver.	2 3
‘20C Act prevails over on-supply agreement	4
‘If there is an inconsistency between an on-supply agreement and this Act, this Act prevails to the extent of the inconsistency.	5 6
‘Subdivision 4—Preliminary disclosure requirements about common area charges	7 8
‘20D Application of sdiv 4	9
‘This subdivision applies if—	10
(a) a person (the “prospective on-supplier”) proposes to enter into an on-supply agreement as an on-supplier; and	11 12
(b) under the agreement, the on-supplier will charge another person (the “prospective receiver”) for common area consumption for the on-supplier’s premises.	13 14 15
‘20E Preliminary consumption estimate	16
‘(1) The prospective on-supplier must, within a reasonable period before making the on-supply agreement, give the prospective receiver—	17 18
(a) written notice of the accounting period that is to apply to the on-supply agreement; and	19 20
(b) an estimate of the common area consumption for the first accounting period for the agreement.	21 22
‘(2) In deciding what is a reasonable period for subsection (1), regard must be had to whether the period is enough to allow the prospective receiver to estimate his or her liability for the common area consumption for the first accounting period for the agreement.	23 24 25 26

*Electricity and Other Legislation Amendment
Bill 2003*

‘20F Required contents for on-supply agreement	1
‘(1) The prospective on-supplier must not enter into the on-supply agreement unless it provides for—	2 3
(a) how the common area consumption is to be worked out; and	4
(b) if the receiver is only required to pay part of the common area consumption—how that part is to be worked out.	5 6
‘(2) Subject to section 20G, failure to comply with subsection (1) does not invalidate the agreement.	7 8
 ‘20G Consequence of not complying with sdiv 4	 9
‘(1) This section applies if the prospective on-supplier—	10
(a) does not comply with section 20E(1) before entering into the on-supply agreement; or	11 12
(b) enters into an on-supply agreement in contravention of section 20F.	13 14
‘(2) The receiver under the agreement may, by written notice to the on-supplier, terminate any liability that the receiver would, other than for this section, have had for common area consumption to which the agreement applies.	15 16 17 18
‘(3) However, the notice may be given only within 2 months after the agreement is made.	19 20
‘(4) A termination under this section ends any liability for common area consumption accrued or incurred under the agreement or otherwise at any time before or after the termination.	21 22 23
‘(5) To remove any doubt, it is declared that a termination under this section does not, of itself, affect any other liability of the receiver to the on-supplier under the agreement or another agreement.	24 25 26
‘(6) This section does not limit section 20A.	27

*Electricity and Other Legislation Amendment
Bill 2003*

‘Subdivision 5—Individual metering

‘20H Individual metering option

‘(1) This section applies if an on-supply agreement for the supply and sale of electricity between an on-supplier and a receiver is in force.

‘(2) The receiver may, at any time—

- (a) elect, by written notice to the on-supplier, to be charged on the basis of the receiver’s consumption of electricity supplied from the on-supplier, as measured by a meter; and
- (b) install the meter, at the receiver’s expense.

‘(3) However, the election has effect only if the installation is done in a way—

- (a) that complies with any reasonable written directions the on-supplier gives the receiver within 5 business days after the giving of the notice; or
- (b) if no written directions are given within the 5 business days—that is reasonable.

‘(4) In deciding what is reasonable for subsection (3), regard must be had to the interests of the on-supplier and anyone who is an occupier of the on-supplier’s premises.

‘20I Compensation for installation damage

‘(1) This section applies if—

- (a) a receiver has, under section 20H, given an on-supplier a written notice of election; and
- (b) the receiver installs a meter for electricity supplied from the on-supplier to the receiver; and
- (c) either—
 - (i) no written direction was given by the on-supplier under section 20H; or
 - (ii) the installation was done in a way that does not comply with the on-supplier’s reasonable written directions under that section; or

*Electricity and Other Legislation Amendment
Bill 2003*

(iii) the installation was not done in a way that is reasonable; and	1
(d) a person as follows (the “ claimant ”) suffers damage to property because of the installation—	2 3
(i) the on-supplier;	4
(ii) anyone who is an occupier of the on-supplier’s premises.	5
‘(2) Compensation for the damage is payable by the receiver to the claimant.	6 7
‘(3) The compensation may be claimed and recovered in a proceeding brought in a court of competent jurisdiction.	8 9
‘(4) A court may order payment of the compensation only if it is just to make the order in the circumstances of the particular case.	10 11
‘(5) In making the order the court must have regard to—	12
(a) whether it was reasonable for the claimant to give the receiver an opportunity to fix the damage; and	13 14
(b) if paragraph (a) applies—whether the receiver was given a reasonable period to fix the damage.	15 16
‘(6) This section does not limit a civil right or remedy that exists apart from this section, whether at common law or otherwise.	17 18
‘20J Maximum charge for metered supply	19
‘(1) This section applies if electricity supplied and sold by an on-supplier to a receiver is charged on the basis of the receiver’s electricity consumption as measured by a meter.	20 21 22
‘(2) However, this section does not apply to electricity that is common area consumption for the on-supplier’s premises.	23 24
‘(3) If there is a relevant retail entity for the supply, the rate of the charge must not be more than the lowest rate that the receiver would have paid for the consumption had the receiver been a non-contestable customer of the entity.	25 26 27 28
‘(4) If there is no relevant retail entity for the supply, the rate of charge must not be more than the lowest rate that the receiver would have paid for the consumption had the receiver been a non-contestable customer of the retail entity that sells electricity to the on-supplier.	29 30 31 32

Bill 2003*

‘(5) In working out the lowest rate for subsections (3) and (4), any cost of connecting the receiver’s premises to a supply network to allow the supply of electricity from the network to the premises must be disregarded.	1 2 3
‘(6) The on-supplier can not recover an amount for the consumption to the extent the amount has been worked out at a rate that is more than the lowest rate allowed under subsection (3) or (4).	4 5 6
‘(7) In this section—	7
“ relevant retail entity ”, for the supply, means a retail entity whose retail authority states an area in which the receiver’s premises are located.	8 9
‘Subdivision 6—Disclosure requirements for common area consumption charges	10 11
‘20K Application of sdiv 6	12
‘This subdivision applies if, under an on-supply agreement, the on-supplier may charge for common area consumption.	13 14
‘20L Periodic consumption estimates	15
‘(1) The on-supplier must, for each accounting period after the first accounting period for the agreement, give the receiver an estimate of the common area consumption for the on-supplier’s premises during the accounting period.	16 17 18 19
‘(2) An estimate for an accounting period must be given at least 1 month before the accounting period begins.	20 21
‘20M Audited statements	22
‘(1) The on-supplier must, for each accounting period, give the receiver audited statements of the common area consumption.	23 24

(d) compare each relevant estimate given under this division with the amount actually spent by the on-supplier on the common area consumption during the period; and	17 18 19
(e) compare the total amount actually spent by the on-supplier on common area consumption during the period with the amount actually paid for the period by anyone for the on-supplier’s premises.	20 21 22 23

‘Division 3—General powers of inspection officers

‘152G General powers after entering place

‘(1) This section applies to an inspection officer who enters a place.

‘(2) However, if an inspection officer enters a place to get the occupier’s consent to enter a place, this section applies to the inspection officer only if the consent is given or the entry is otherwise authorised.

‘(3) For monitoring and enforcing compliance with this Act, the inspection officer may—

(a) search any part of the place; or

(b) inspect, measure, test, photograph or film any part of the place or anything at the place; or

(c) take a thing, or a sample of or from a thing, at the place for analysis or testing; or

(d) copy a document at the place; or

(e) take into or onto the place any persons, equipment and materials the inspection officer reasonably requires for exercising a power under this part; or

(f) require a person at the place to give the inspection officer reasonable help to exercise the inspection officer’s powers under paragraphs (a) to (e); or

(g) require a person at the place to answer questions by the inspection officer to help the inspection officer ascertain whether this Act is being or has been complied with.

‘(4) When making a requirement mentioned in subsection (3)(f) or (g), the inspection officer must warn the person it is an offence to fail to comply with the requirement, unless the person has a reasonable excuse.

‘(5) A person given a requirement under subsection (3)(f) or (g) must comply with the requirement, unless the person has a reasonable excuse.

Maximum penalty for subsection (5)—100 penalty units.

*Electricity and Other Legislation Amendment
Bill 2003*

‘(6) It is a reasonable excuse for the person to fail to comply with the requirement that complying with the requirement might tend to incriminate the person. 1

‘(7) A reasonable excuse does not include a matter of mere convenience. 4

‘152H Power to seize evidence 5

‘(1) An inspection officer who enters a place under this part, other than with a warrant, may seize a thing at the place if— 6

(a) the inspection officer reasonably believes the thing is evidence of an offence against this Act; and 8

(b) for an entry made with the occupier’s consent—seizure of the thing is consistent with the purpose of entry as told to the occupier when asking for the occupier’s consent. 10
11
12

‘(2) An inspection officer who enters a place with a warrant may seize the evidence for which the warrant was issued. 13
14

‘(3) An inspection officer may also seize anything else at a place the officer enters under this part if the officer reasonably believes— 15
16

(a) the thing is evidence of an offence against this Act; and 17

(b) the seizure is necessary to prevent the thing being hidden, lost or destroyed or used to continue or repeat the offence. 18
19

‘(4) Also, an inspection officer may seize a thing at a place the inspection officer enters under this part if the inspection officer reasonably believes it has just been used in committing an offence against this Act. 20
21
22

‘152I Powers supporting seizure 23

‘(1) Having seized a thing, an inspection officer may— 24

(a) move the thing from the place where it was seized (the “place of seizure”); or 25
26

(b) leave the thing at the place of seizure but take reasonable action to restrict access to it and, if the thing is electrical equipment, to disconnect it from its supply of electricity to the extent considered appropriate; or 27
28
29
30

*Electricity and Other Legislation Amendment
Bill 2003*

Example—

Sealing the entrance to a room where the seized thing is situated and marking it to show access to it is restricted.

(c) if the thing is electrical equipment—dismantle it or cause it to be dismantled.

‘(2) An inspection officer may direct an electricity entity to give the inspection officer the help the inspection officer reasonably requires to disconnect electrical equipment under subsection (1)(b).

‘(3) An electricity entity must comply with a direction under subsection (2).

‘(4) If an inspection officer restricts access to a seized thing, a person must not tamper, or attempt to tamper, with the thing or something restricting access to the thing without an inspection officer’s approval.

Maximum penalty for subsection (4)—100 penalty units.

‘(5) If an inspection officer disconnects seized electrical equipment from its supply of electricity, a person must not reconnect, or attempt to reconnect, the electrical equipment to a source of supply without an inspection officer’s approval.

Maximum penalty for subsection (5)—100 penalty units.

‘152J Receipt for seized thing

‘(1) As soon as practicable after an inspection officer seizes a thing, the inspection officer must give a receipt for it to the person from whom it was seized.

‘(2) However, if it is not practicable to comply with subsection (1), the inspection officer must leave the receipt in a conspicuous position and in a reasonably secure way at the place of seizure.

‘(3) The receipt must describe generally the thing seized and its condition.

‘(4) This section does not apply to a thing if it is impracticable or would be unreasonable to give the receipt required by the section, given the thing’s nature, condition and value.

*Electricity and Other Legislation Amendment
Bill 2003*

‘152K Forfeiture of seized thing

‘(1) A seized thing is forfeited to the State if the inspection officer who seized the thing—

- (a) can not find its owner after making reasonable inquiries; or
- (b) can not return it to its owner, after making reasonable efforts; or
- (c) reasonably believes it is necessary to keep the thing to prevent it being used to commit an offence against this Act.

‘(2) Subsection (1)(a) does not require the inspection officer to make inquiries if it would be unreasonable to make inquiries to find the owner, and subsection (1)(b) does not require the inspection officer to make efforts if it would be unreasonable to make efforts to return the thing to its owner.

‘(3) If the inspection officer decides to forfeit a thing under subsection (1)(c), the inspection officer must tell the owner of the decision by written notice.

‘(4) Subsection (3) does not apply if—

- (a) the inspection officer can not find its owner, after making reasonable inquiries; or
- (b) it is impracticable or would be unreasonable to give the notice.

‘(5) The written notice must include a notice stating the following—

- (a) the reasons for the decision;
- (b) the rights of review or appeal under this Act;
- (c) the period in which the review or appeal must be started;
- (d) how the rights of review or appeal are to be exercised;
- (e) that a stay of the decision may be applied for under this Act.

‘(6) In deciding whether, and if so what, inquiries or efforts are reasonable, or whether it would be unreasonable to give notice about a thing, regard must be had to the thing’s nature, condition and value.

‘152L Return of seized thing

‘(1) If a seized thing has not been forfeited, the inspection officer must return it to its owner—

- (a) at the end of 6 months; or

*Electricity and Other Legislation Amendment
Bill 2003*

(b) if a proceeding for an offence involving it is started within 1
6 months, at the end of the proceeding and any appeal from the 2 proceeding. 3

‘(2) However, unless the thing has been forfeited, the inspection officer 4 must immediately return a thing seized as evidence to its owner if the 5 inspection officer stops being satisfied its continued retention as evidence 6 is necessary. 7

‘152M Access to seized thing 8

‘(1) Until a seized thing is forfeited or returned, an inspection officer 9 must allow its owner to inspect it and, if it is a document, to copy it. 10

‘(2) Subsection (1) does not apply if it is impracticable or would be 11 unreasonable to allow the inspection or copying.’. 12
