2 Commencement	6
This Act commences on a day to be fixed by proclamation.	7
3 Purpose of this Act	8
(1) The purpose of this Act is to require particular offenders who commit sexual, or particular other serious, offences against children to keep police informed of their whereabouts and other personal details for a period of time after their release into the community—	9 10 11 12 13
(a) to reduce the likelihood that they will re-offend; and	14

(2) In outline, this Act—	17
(a) provides for the establishment of a child protection register; and	18 19
(b) requires offenders who are sentenced for reportable offences after the commencement date to report specified personal details for inclusion in the register, and extends this requirement to particular offenders sentenced for reportable offences before that date; and	20 21 22 23 24
(c) requires those reportable offenders to keep those details up to date, to report those details annually and to also report particular travel plans; and	25 26 27

- (d) imposes those reporting obligations for a period of 1 between 4 years and life, depending on the number, 2 severity and timing of the offences committed, and the 3 age of the reportable offender at the time an offence was 4 committed; and 5
- (e) allows for the recognition of the period of reporting 6
obligations imposed under laws of foreign jurisdictions. 7
- (3) Subsection (2) is intended only as a guide to readers about the 8
general scheme and effect of this Act. 9

- 4 Notes in text 10

- (a) the finding of guilt in relation to the only offence that makes the person a reportable offender under this Act is quashed or set aside by a court; or
- (b) the person’s sentence for the only offence that makes the person a reportable offender under this Act is reduced or altered so that the person would have been a person mentioned in subsection (2)(a) or (b) had the amended sentence been the original sentence; or

- (i) is quashed on appeal; or
- (ii) if the order was made with a forensic order—ends because of the revocation of the forensic order.
- (5) For this section, it is irrelevant whether or not a person may lodge, or has lodged, an appeal in relation to a finding of guilt, sentence or offender reporting order.
- (6) For subsection (1)(a), a person is a reportable offender even if the reportable offence was committed before the commencement of this section.

(c)	falls within a class of person whom a regulation states is a corresponding reportable offender.	26 27

Child Protection (Offender Reporting) Bill 2004

Note—	1
The meaning of single offence is qualified by subsection (4) and by section 11(1). ¹⁸	2 3
(5) For this section, to work out when the reporting obligations of an existing reportable offender end, the offender’s reporting obligations in relation to a reportable offence are taken to have commenced—	4 5 6 7
(a) when the reportable offender was sentenced for the offence; or	8 9
(b) if the reportable offender is subject to an order under the Criminal Law Amendment Act 1945 , section 19—when the order under that section was imposed on the reportable offender; or	10 11 12 13
(c) when the reportable offender stopped being in government detention for the offence;	14 15
whichever was the later.	16
(6) Despite anything to the contrary in this section or section 37, a forensic reportable offender must continue to comply with the reporting obligations imposed by this part until the person stops being a reportable offender. ¹⁹	17 18 19 20
37 Reduced period applies for juvenile reportable offenders	21
(1) The reporting periods stated in section 36 do not apply to a reportable offender who was a child at the time at which the offender committed each reportable offence.	22 23 24
(2) Instead, a reporting period that is half the reporting period that would otherwise apply to the offender under section 36 (or 7½ years for a reporting period for life) applies to the offender.	25 26 27 28

18 Section 11 (References to other terms and concepts)

39	Reporting period for corresponding reportable offenders	12
(1)	Despite anything to the contrary in this part, a corresponding reportable offender must continue to comply with the reporting obligations imposed by this part for the recognised foreign reporting period mentioned in section 7(b). ²⁰	13 14 15 16

	(b) a corresponding reportable offender who must, under section 39, ²² continue to comply with the reporting obligations imposed by this part for any period.	23 24 25

(d)	any matter specified by a regulation for the purposes of this section; and	11 12
(e)	any other matter that the court considers is appropriate.	13

| | Note— | 32 |
| | This section aims to prevent a reportable offender who was not given notice of a reporting obligation by an official as required by this part | 33 from arguing that the obligation does not apply to him or her as a result of that failure if there is evidence that the reportable offender was aware of the obligation through some other way. If there is no evidence of that, then the reportable offender would have a defence to the charge under section 50(3)²⁶ on the basis that the person was not aware of the obligation.

24 |
| (b) | if an application mentioned in section 64(3) is made before the end of that period, at the end of 3 days after notice is given to the applicant as mentioned in section 64(4)(c); or | 25
26
27
28 |
| (c) | if an appeal is made under section 65 before the end of that 3 day period, on the day on which the Supreme Court decides the appeal; | 29
