- ‘(2) However, a motor vehicle may not be released under subsection (1) if the driver has been charged with having committed another prescribed offence for which the motor vehicle may be impounded or immobilised.
- ‘(3) If subsection (2) applies to the motor vehicle, the motor vehicle may be impounded or immobilised for the prescribed impoundment period that would have applied if the offence mentioned in subsection (1) had not happened.
- Examples of operation of subsections (2) and (3)—*
- 1 A driver is charged with having committed a type 1 vehicle related offence (the first offence) while driving motor vehicle A. Motor vehicle A is impounded for a prescribed impoundment period of 90 days under section 74. A week later, the driver is charged with having committed another type 1 vehicle related offence while driving motor vehicle B. Motor vehicle B is impounded under section 74A. On the next day, the charge for the first offence is withdrawn. Motor vehicle A must be released under this section. However, motor vehicle B may be impounded until the prescribed impoundment period of 90 days ends as if it had been impounded under section 74.

2 A driver is charged with having committed a second type 2 vehicle 1 related offence while driving motor vehicle A (the second offence). 2 Motor vehicle A is impounded for a prescribed impoundment 3 period of 7 days under section 74C. Motor vehicle A is then 4 returned to the driver. A week later the driver is charged during the 5 relevant period with having committed a third type 2 vehicle related 6 offence while driving motor vehicle A. The charge for second 7 offence has not been decided at that time. Motor vehicle A is 8 impounded for a prescribed impoundment period of 90 days under 9 section 79D. Thirty days after motor vehicle A is impounded, the 10 charge for the second offence is withdrawn. Motor vehicle A must 11 be released under this section as the prescribed impoundment 12 period of 7 days under section 74C would have already ended. 13

‘(4) A reference in subsection (1) to a proceeding being 14 discontinued includes, for a prescribed offence that is a 15 vehicle related offence for which an infringement notice has 16 been served under section 71, the withdrawal of the 17 infringement notice under the State Penalties Enforcement Act 18 1999.’ 19

- ‘(3) On the warrant being issued the motor vehicle is taken to have been forfeited to the State.
- ‘(4) The commissioner may sell the motor vehicle and anything in or on it by public auction or dispose of it in the way the commissioner considers appropriate.
