- (a) a receipt for the thing that generally describes the thing and its condition; and
- (b) an information notice about the decision to seize it.
- (3) However, if an owner or person from whom the thing is seized is not present when it is seized, the receipt and information notice may be given by leaving them in a conspicuous position and in a reasonably secure way at the place at which the thing is seized.

169 Access to seized thing

18
 - (a) its continued retention as evidence is no longer necessary; and 19 20
 - (b) its continued retention is not necessary to prevent it being used to continue, or repeat, an offence against this Act; and 21
22
23
 - (c) it is lawful for the owner to possess it. 24
 - (4) Nothing in this section affects a lien or other security over the seized thing. 25

	Example for paragraph (b)—	14
	the owner of the thing has migrated to another country	15
(3)	Regard must be had to the thing’s condition, nature and value in deciding—	16 17

21
22
- (3) The chief executive must not deal with the thing in a way that could prejudice the outcome of an appeal against the forfeiture under this part. 23
24
