Division 3	Power to require information	1 2
Subdivision 1	Preliminary	3
8AA	Definitions for division	4
	In this division—	5
	authorised person , for an information matter, see section 8AB.	6 7
	disclosure notice see section 8AL(2).	8
	disclosure recipient see section 8AD.	9
	employer , of a person, means the person who employs the person or by whom the person is engaged.	10 11 12
	give , in relation to information, includes carry out a procedure to generate the information.	13 14
	information includes a document.	15
	information matter means—	16
	(a) the fact an information requirement is made of a person; or	17 18
	(b) the nature of the information sought under an information requirement that is made of a person.	19 20 21
	information requirement see section 8AE(3).	22
	manager , of a person, means a person who is employed or engaged by the same entity as the person and who manages or supervises the person's work.	23 24 25 26
	relevant officer see section 8AL(4).	27
	unauthorised person , for an information matter, see section 8AC.	28 29

[s 28]

work-related information, for a person of whom an information requirement is made, means information that is held, or is to be collected, by an entity by which the person is employed or engaged.

8AB Meaning of authorised person

An authorised person, for an information matter, is—

- (a) a person who has been given a disclosure notice authorising the disclosure of the information matter to the person; or

Note—

See subdivision 4 for the giving of disclosure notices.

- (b) a police officer to whom an information matter must, or may, be disclosed under this Act.

8AC Meaning of unauthorised person

An unauthorised person, for an information matter, is a person other than an authorised person for the information matter.

Note—

See subdivision 3 for the restrictions on disclosing an information matter to an unauthorised person.

8AD Meaning of disclosure recipient

- (1) A disclosure recipient is a person to whom an information matter is disclosed.
- (2) For subsection (1), it does not matter whether the disclosure of the information matter to the person—

- (a) is made by a person of whom an information requirement is made or another disclosure recipient; or
- (b) is made lawfully or otherwise.
- Note—*
- A disclosure recipient may be an authorised person, or an unauthorised person, for the information matter that is disclosed to the disclosure recipient.
- (3) However, a person to whom an information matter is disclosed is not a disclosure recipient if the disclosure is made to the person—
- (a) because the person is a police officer mentioned in any of the following sections—
- (i) section 8AE(2);
- (ii) section 8AF(3), definition relevant matters, paragraph (h) or (i);
- (iii) section 8AN(3), definition relevant matters, paragraph (j) or (k); or
- (b) for the purpose of receiving or investigating a complaint to a State police officer or the Crime and Corruption Commission.

Subdivision 2 Information requirements

8AE Making of information requirement

- (1) This section applies if, during the period of an emergency situation, the emergency commander is satisfied on reasonable grounds that—
- (a) a person may be able to give information that is necessary to manage or resolve the emergency situation; and

[s 28]

- Examples of persons who may be able to give information that is necessary to manage or resolve the emergency situation—*
- a designated person under the Hospital and Health Boards Act 2011, part 7
 - a person who is responsible for a biometric identification system
- (b) it is not practicable, in the circumstances of the emergency situation, to obtain the information from the person other than under this subdivision.
- (2) The emergency commander or a police officer acting on the emergency commander's instructions may require the person to give the information to—
- (a) the emergency commander or police officer; or
 - (b) another police officer, who may be described by name or by reference to an officer performing a stated function.
- (3) A requirement under subsection (2) is an information requirement.
- (4) An information requirement—
- (a) must be made by written notice; or
 - (b) if it is not reasonably practicable in the circumstances to give written notice—may be made orally, but must be confirmed in writing as soon as reasonably practicable after it is made.
- Example—*
- Because the information is required urgently, the police officer does not have time to return to the station to complete a written notice.
- (5) An information requirement may require the person to give the information—

- (a) either— 1
- (i) if it would be reasonable in the 2
circumstances to require the person to 3 give the information 4
immediately—immediately; or 5
- (ii) otherwise—by a stated reasonable time 6 and in a stated reasonable way; or 7
- Examples of a reasonable way in which the 8 information may be required to be given— 9*
- telephoning a stated telephone number 10 to give the information by telephone 11
 - emailing a document to a stated email 12
address 13
- (b) by attending at a stated reasonable time and 14 place to answer questions or produce 15 documents. 16
- (6) Also, an information requirement may require the 17 person to give the information on an ongoing 18 basis during the period of the emergency 19 situation. 20
- (7) However, the emergency commander or police 21 officer may not under this section require the 22 person to give the information if the emergency 23 commander or police officer reasonably suspects 24
the person has committed an indictable offence 25 that is directly related to the emergency situation. 26
- Note— 27*
- See the Police Powers and Responsibilities Act 2000 for 28
the powers to question a person suspected of having 29 committed an indictable offence. 30
- (8) For information that is included in an electronic 31 document, compliance with the information 32 requirement requires— 33
- (a) the giving of a clear image or written 34 version of the electronic document; or 35

[s 28]

- (b) the giving of the information in a format that 1 is able to be accessed by the emergency 2 commander or police officer. 3

Example— 4

giving a digital file of CCTV footage that is able 5 to be played on a computer 6

- (9) If the information requirement is current at the 7 end of the declaration of the emergency situation, 8
the information requirement ends. 9

- (10) In this section— 10

electronic document means a document of a type 11
under the Acts Interpretation Act 1954, schedule 12
1, definition document, paragraph (c). 13

8AF Person to be informed of relevant matters 14

- (1) If an information requirement is made of a person 15
by written notice, the notice must state the 16 relevant matters. 17

- (2) If an information requirement is made of a person 18 orally, the emergency commander or a police 19 officer acting on the emergency commander's 20 instructions must, when making the requirement 21 of the person, tell the person the relevant matters. 22

- (3) In this section— 23

relevant matters, in relation to an information 24 requirement that is made of a person, means each 25 of the following— 26

- (a) an emergency situation has been declared to 27 exist; 28

- (b) it is an offence for the person not to comply 29 with the information requirement unless the 30 person has a reasonable excuse; 31

- (c) it is a reasonable excuse for the person not 32 to give the information if— 33

- (i) for an individual—giving the information might tend to incriminate the individual or expose the individual to a penalty; or
- (ii) the information is the subject of legal professional privilege;
- (d) it is an offence for the person to give information the person knows is false or misleading in a material particular unless, when giving information in a document, the person—
- (i) tells the police officer to whom the information is given, to the best of the person’s ability, how the document is false or misleading; and
- (ii) if the person has, or can reasonably obtain, the correct information—gives the correct information;
- (e) it is an offence for the person to disclose an information matter to an unauthorised person for the information matter unless the person has a reasonable excuse;
- (f) the maximum penalty for committing an offence in relation to the information requirement, with and without a circumstance of aggravation;
- (g) the name, rank, registered number and station of the emergency commander or police officer making the information requirement;
- (h) the contact details of a police officer who may be contacted about the information requirement;
- Examples of a police officer who may be contacted about the information requirement—*
- a stated police officer

[s 28]

- a police officer performing a stated function 1
- (i) if the person wishes to disclose an 2 information matter to another person, the 3 person may ask the emergency commander 4 or police officer, or the police officer 5 mentioned in paragraph (h), to give the other 6 person a disclosure notice authorising the 7
disclosure of the information matter to the 8
other person for a stated purpose; 9
- (j) a police officer may give the person a 10 written notice under section 8AK, including 11
by email from a Queensland Police Service 12
email account, stating that the person is no 13 longer prohibited from disclosing an 14 information matter to other persons; 15
- (k) if, during the period of the emergency 16 situation, the person is not given a notice 17
mentioned in paragraph (j), a police officer 18 will inform the person when the emergency 19 situation has ended. 20

8AG Offence to contravene information 21 requirement 22

- (1) A person of whom an information requirement is 23 made must comply with the information 24 requirement unless the person has a reasonable 25 excuse. 26
Maximum penalty—40 penalty units or 1 year’s 27 imprisonment. 28
- (2) It is a reasonable excuse for the person not to give 29
the information if— 30
 - (a) for an individual—giving the information 31 might tend to incriminate the individual or 32 expose the individual to a penalty; or 33
 - (b) the information is the subject of legal 34 professional privilege. 35

- (3) Subsection (2) does not limit what is a reasonable excuse. 1 2
- (4) It is a defence to a prosecution for an offence against subsection (1) for the person to prove the person— 3
5
- (a) could not reasonably comply with the information requirement within the period stated in the requirement; and 6 7
8
- (b) took reasonable steps to comply with the information requirement; and 9 10
- (c) gave the information sought under the information requirement as soon as practicable after the period for compliance stated in the requirement. 11
12
14
- (5) Subsection (1) applies despite any requirement to maintain confidentiality or other restriction on giving the information, whether imposed under an Act or a rule of law, unless the Act expressly overrides this section. 15
16
17
18
19
- Note—* 20
- See section 8AQ for the person’s protection from liability for giving the information. 21 22
- (6) A person commits a crime if the person commits an offence against subsection (1) in circumstances where the person— 23
25
- (a) intends to— 26
- (i) seriously endanger the health or safety of any person; or 27 28
- (ii) cause serious damage to property; or 29
- (iii) cause serious pollution of the environment; or 30 31
- (iv) seriously prejudice the effective management or resolution of the emergency situation; or 32
33
34

[s 28]

- (b) knows that, or is reckless as to whether, the person's noncompliance with the information requirement is likely to—
- (i) seriously endanger the health or safety of any person; or
 - (ii) cause serious damage to property; or
 - (iii) cause serious pollution of the environment; or
 - (iv) seriously prejudice the effective management or resolution of the emergency situation.
- Maximum penalty—10 years imprisonment.

8A Offence to give false or misleading information

- (1) A person of whom an information requirement is made must not give the nominated officer information the person knows is false or misleading in a material particular.
- Maximum penalty—40 penalty units or 1 year's imprisonment.
- (2) Subsection (1) does not apply to a person if the person, when giving information in a document—
- (a) tells the nominated officer, to the best of the person's ability, how the document is false or misleading; and
 - (b) if the person has, or can reasonably obtain, the correct information—gives the correct information.
- (3) A person commits a crime if the person commits an offence against subsection (1) in circumstances where the person—
- (a) intends to—

(i)	seriously endanger the health or safety of any person; or	1 2
(ii)	cause serious damage to property; or	3
(iii)	cause serious pollution of the environment; or	4 5
(iv)	seriously prejudice the effective management or resolution of the emergency situation; or	6 7 8
(b)	knows that, or is reckless as to whether, giving the false or misleading information is likely to—	9 10 11
(i)	seriously endanger the health or safety of any person; or	12 13
(ii)	cause serious damage to property; or	14
(iii)	cause serious pollution of the environment; or	15 16
(iv)	seriously prejudice the effective management or resolution of the emergency situation.	17 18 19
	Maximum penalty—10 years imprisonment.	20
(4)	In this section—	21
	nominated officer , in relation to a person of whom an information requirement is made, means the police officer to whom the person is required to give the information under the information requirement.	22 23 24 25 26
	Note —	27
	See section 8AE(2) for the police officers to whom a person may be required to give the information under an information requirement.	28 29 30

Subdivision 3	Restrictions on disclosing information matter to unauthorised persons	1
		3
8AI	Offence for person to disclose information matter to unauthorised person	4
		5
(1)	During the period of an emergency situation, a person of whom an information requirement has been made must not, without reasonable excuse, disclose an information matter to an unauthorised person for the information matter.	6
		7
		10
	Maximum penalty—40 penalty units or 1 year’s imprisonment.	11
		12
(2)	However, the person does not commit an offence against subsection (1) if—	13
		14
(a)	the person has been given a notice under section 8AK in relation to the information matter; or	15
		16
		17
(b)	the disclosure is made for the purpose of making a complaint to a State police officer or the Crime and Corruption Commission.	18
		19
		20
(3)	A person commits a crime if the person commits an offence against subsection (1) in circumstances where the person—	21
		22
		23
(a)	intends to—	24
(i)	seriously endanger the health or safety of any person; or	25
		26
(ii)	cause serious damage to property; or	27
(iii)	cause serious pollution of the environment; or	28
		29
(iv)	seriously prejudice the effective management or resolution of the emergency situation; or	30
		31
		32

- (b) knows that, or is reckless as to whether, the disclosure of the information matter is likely to—
- (i) seriously endanger the health or safety of any person; or
 - (ii) cause serious damage to property; or
 - (iii) cause serious pollution of the environment; or
 - (iv) seriously prejudice the effective management or resolution of the emergency situation.
- Maximum penalty—10 years imprisonment.

8AJ Offence for disclosure recipient to disclose information matter to unauthorised person

- (1) During the period of an emergency situation, a disclosure recipient must not, without reasonable excuse—
- (a) if the disclosure recipient is an authorised person for an information matter—disclose the information matter to an unauthorised person for the information matter; or
 - (b) if the disclosure recipient is an unauthorised person for an information matter—disclose the information matter to another unauthorised person for the information matter, knowing that, or being reckless as to whether, the person to whom the disclosure is made is an unauthorised person.
- Maximum penalty—40 penalty units or 1 year’s imprisonment.
- (2) However, the disclosure recipient does not commit an offence against subsection (1) if—

[s 28]

- (a) the disclosure recipient has been given a notice under section 8AK in relation to the information matter; or
 - (b) the disclosure is made for the purpose of making a complaint to a State police officer or the Crime and Corruption Commission.
- (3) Also, the disclosure recipient does not commit an offence against subsection (1)(a) by disclosing to a person of whom an information requirement has been made—
- (a) the fact the information requirement has been made of the person; or
 - (b) the nature of the information sought under the information requirement.
- (4) A disclosure recipient commits a crime if the disclosure recipient commits an offence against subsection (1) in circumstances where the disclosure recipient—
- (a) intends to—
 - (i) seriously endanger the health or safety of any person; or
 - (ii) cause serious damage to property; or
 - (iii) cause serious pollution of the environment; or
 - (iv) seriously prejudice the effective management or resolution of the emergency situation; or
 - (b) knows that, or is reckless as to whether, the disclosure of the information matter is likely to—
 - (i) seriously endanger the health or safety of any person; or
 - (ii) cause serious damage to property; or

- (iii) cause serious pollution of the environment; or
- (iv) seriously prejudice the effective management or resolution of the emergency situation.
- Maximum penalty—10 years imprisonment.

8AK Notice that person released from prohibition on disclosing information matter

- (1) This section applies if, at any time during the period of an emergency situation, the emergency commander reasonably considers it will not prejudice the effective management or resolution of the emergency situation if—
- (a) a person of whom an information requirement is made discloses an information matter; or
- (b) a person who is a disclosure recipient discloses an information matter.
- (2) The emergency commander or a police officer acting on the emergency commander's instructions may give the person a written notice stating that the person is no longer prohibited from disclosing the information matter to other persons.
- Note—*
- Section 8AI or 8AJ applies to the person if the person has not been given a notice under this section.
- (3) The written notice may be given to the person—
- (a) by email, but only if it is sent from a Queensland Police Service email account; or
- (b) in a written notice making an information requirement of the person; or

[s 28]

(c) in another appropriate way. 1

Subdivision 4 Disclosure notices 2

8AL Request for disclosure notice to be given 3

- (1) This section applies to a person who— 4
- (a) is either— 5
- (i) a person of whom an information 6
requirement is made; or 7
- (ii) a disclosure recipient; and 8
- (b) during the period of an emergency situation, 9 wishes to disclose an information matter to 10
another person; and 11
- (c) has not been given a notice under section 12
8AK in relation to the information matter. 13
- (2) The person may ask a relevant officer to give a 14 stated person a notice (a disclosure notice) 15 authorising the disclosure of the information 16 matter to the stated person for a stated purpose. 17
- (3) The stated purpose must be— 18
- (a) for disclosure by a person of whom an 19
information requirement is made— 20
- (i) to obtain the help of the other person in 21 order to comply with the information 22 requirement; or 23
- (ii) if the information requirement 24 concerns work-related information for 25
the person—to inform the employer, or 26
a manager, of the person that the 27 information requirement has been 28
made of the person; or 29

- (iii) to seek legal advice in relation to the information requirement, including about an offence against this division; or
- (b) for disclosure by a disclosure recipient—
- (i) to obtain the help of the other person in order to help the person of whom the information requirement is made comply with the information requirement; or
- (ii) if the information requirement concerns work-related information for the person of whom it is made and the disclosure recipient is a manager of the person—to inform the employer, or a manager, of the disclosure recipient that the information requirement has been made of the person; or
- (iii) to seek legal advice in relation to the information requirement, including about an offence against this division.
- (4) In this section—
- relevant officer* means—
- (a) the emergency commander; or
- (b) a police officer acting on the emergency commander’s instructions; or
- (c) if the request under subsection (2) is made by a person of whom an information requirement is made—a police officer mentioned in section 8AF(3), definition relevant matters, paragraph (h) whose contact details have been given to the person; or
- (d) if the request under subsection (2) is made by a disclosure recipient who is an

[s 28]

authorised person for the information 1 matter—a police officer mentioned in 2 section 8AN(3), definition relevant matters 3 paragraph (j) whose contact details have 4 been given to the disclosure recipient. 5

8AM Obligation to give, or to refuse to give, disclosure notice 6 7

- (1) This section applies if a request is made under 8
section 8AL to a relevant officer to give a stated 9 person a disclosure notice. 10
- (2) The relevant officer must give the stated person a 11 disclosure notice unless the officer reasonably 12 suspects that giving the notice might prejudice the 13 effective management or resolution of the 14
emergency situation. 15
- (3) The disclosure notice may be given in writing or 16
orally. 17
- (4) The giving of the disclosure notice does not affect 18
the time by which the person of whom the 19
information requirement is made must comply 20 with the information requirement. 21

Example— 22

An information requirement is made of a person and, 23
under section 8AE(5)(a)(i), requires the person to give 24 the information immediately. The person asks for a 25 disclosure notice to be given to the person's lawyer to 26 seek legal advice in relation to the information 27 requirement. The obligation under subsection (2) for the 28 relevant officer to give the person's lawyer a disclosure 29 notice does not affect the person's obligation under 30 section 8AG to comply with the information 31 requirement by giving the information immediately. 32

- (5) If the relevant officer reasonably suspects that 33 giving the stated person a disclosure notice might 34 prejudice the effective management or resolution 35 of the emergency situation, the officer must 36 decide to refuse the request. 37

8AN Person to be informed of relevant matters	1
(1) If a disclosure notice is given in writing, the notice must state the relevant matters.	2 3
(2) If a disclosure notice is given orally, the relevant officer must, when giving the notice, tell the person to whom it is given the relevant matters.	4 5 6
(3) In this section—	7
relevant matters , in relation to a disclosure notice given to a person (the stated person), means each of the following—	8 9 10
(a) an emergency situation has been declared to exist;	11 12
(b) an information requirement has been made of the person mentioned in section 8AL(1)(a)(i);	13 14 15
(c) it is an offence for the person of whom the information requirement is made not to comply with the information requirement unless the person has a reasonable excuse;	16 17 18 19
(d) it is an offence for the person of whom the information requirement is made to give information the person knows is false or misleading in a material particular unless, when giving information in a document, the person—	20 21 22 23 24 25
(i) tells the police officer to whom the information is given, to the best of the person's ability, how the document is false or misleading; and	26 27 28 29
(ii) if the person has, or can reasonably obtain, the correct information—gives the correct information;	30 31 32
(e) it is an offence for the person of whom the information requirement is made to disclose an information matter to an unauthorised	33 34 35

[s 28]

- person for the information matter unless the person has a reasonable excuse; 1 2
- (f) the person of whom the information requirement is made, or a disclosure recipient, has been authorised to disclose an information matter to the stated person for the purpose of— 3 4
5
6
7
- (i) either— 8
- (A) for disclosure by the person of whom the information requirement is made—obtaining the help of the stated person in order to comply with the information requirement; or 9 10
12
13
14
- (B) for disclosure by a disclosure recipient—obtaining the help of the stated person in order to help the person of whom the information requirement is made comply with the information requirement; or 15
16
17
18
19
20
21
- (ii) informing the stated person, as the employer, or a manager, of the person of whom the information requirement is made, or of the disclosure recipient, that the information requirement has been made and concerns work-related information for the person of whom it is made; or 22
23
25
26
27
28
29
- (iii) seeking legal advice in relation to the information requirement, including about an offence against this division; 30
31
32
- (g) it is an offence for the stated person to disclose the information matter to an unauthorised person for the information matter unless the stated person has a reasonable excuse; 33
34
35
36
37

- (h) the maximum penalty for disclosing the information matter to an unauthorised person for the information matter, with and without a circumstance of aggravation; 1
2
3
4
- (i) the name, rank, registered number and station of the police officer giving the disclosure notice; 5
7
- (j) the contact details of a police officer who may be contacted about the information requirement or disclosure notice; 8
10
- Examples of a police officer who may be contacted about the information requirement or disclosure notice—* 11 12
13
- a stated police officer 14
 - a police officer performing a stated function 15
- (k) if the stated person wishes to disclose the information matter to another person, the stated person may ask the emergency commander, the police officer giving the disclosure notice or the police officer mentioned in paragraph (j) to give the other person a disclosure notice authorising the disclosure of the information matter to the other person for a stated purpose; 16
17
18
19
20
21
22
23
24
- (l) a police officer may give the stated person a written notice under section 8AK, including by email from a Queensland Police Service email account, stating that the person is no longer prohibited from disclosing the information matter to other persons; 25
26
27
28
29
30
- (m) if, during the period of the emergency situation, the person is not given a notice mentioned in paragraph (l), a police officer will inform the stated person when the emergency situation has ended. 31

[s 28]

8AO Procedure if disclosure notice is given	1
(1) If a disclosure notice is given under section 8AM(2), the relevant officer must—	2 3
(a) if the notice is given in writing—give a copy of the notice to the person who requested the giving of the notice; or	4 5 6
(b) if the notice is given orally—tell the person who requested the giving of the notice that the notice has been given.	7 8 9
(2) Also, the relevant officer must, as soon as reasonably practicable after the disclosure notice is given, make a written record under subsection (3) or (4).	10 11 12 13
(3) If the disclosure notice is given in writing, the written record must state—	14 15
(a) the date and time the notice is given; and	16
(b) the date and time a copy of the notice is given to the person who requested the giving of the notice.	17 18 19
(4) If the disclosure notice is given orally, the written record must state—	20 21
(a) the name of the person to whom the notice is given; and	22 23
(b) the date and time the notice is given; and	24
(c) the date and time the person who requested the giving of the notice is told the notice has been given.	25 26 27
8AP Procedure if disclosure notice is refused	28
(1) This section applies if a relevant officer decides under section 8AM(5) to refuse a person's request to give a stated person a disclosure notice.	29 30 31
(2) As soon as reasonably practicable after making	32

- the decision, the relevant officer must— 1
- (a) inform the person who made the request 2 that— 3
- (i) the request is refused; and 4
- (ii) if the stated purpose of the request was 5
a purpose mentioned in section 6 8AL(3)(a)(iii) or (b)(iii)—the person 7 may ask that a disclosure notice 8 authorising the disclosure of the 9 information matter be given to another 10 stated person for that purpose; and 11
- (b) make a written record of— 12
- (i) the decision to refuse the request; and 13
- (ii) the date and time of the decision; and 14
- (iii) the grounds forming the basis of the 15
suspicion mentioned in section 16
8AM(5). 17
- (3) The information required to be given under 18
subsection (2)(a) may be given orally or in 19 writing. 20

Subdivision 5 Other matters 21

8AQProtection from liability for giving information 22

- (1) This section applies to a person who, acting 23
honestly and without negligence, gives 24 information under an information requirement 25 that is made of the person. 26
- (2) This section also applies to a person if— 27
- (a) the person, acting honestly and without 28
negligence, gives information to— 29

[s 28]

- (i) a person of whom an information requirement is made to help the person comply with the requirement; or
 - (ii) a disclosure recipient to help the disclosure recipient help a person of whom an information requirement is made comply with the requirement; and
- (b) when the information is given—
 - (i) the person is an authorised person for an information matter relating to the person of whom the information requirement is made; or
 - (ii) the person to whom the information is given has been given a notice under section 8AK.
- (3) The person is not liable, civilly, criminally or under an administrative process, for giving the information.
- (4) Also, merely because the person gives the information, the person can not be held to have—
 - (a) breached any code of professional etiquette or ethics; or
 - (b) departed from accepted standards of professional conduct.
- (5) Without limiting subsections (3) and (4)—
 - (a) in a proceeding for defamation, the person has a defence of absolute privilege for publishing the information; and
 - (b) if the person would otherwise be required to maintain confidentiality about the information under an Act, oath or rule of law or practice, the person—

- (i) does not contravene the Act, oath or rule of law or practice by giving the information; and
 - (ii) is not liable to disciplinary action for giving the information.

8A Persons to be informed that emergency situation has ended

- (1) As soon as practicable after the declaration of an emergency situation ends, the emergency commander must ensure each relevant person is informed that—
 - (a) the emergency situation has ended; and
 - (b) the relevant person is no longer prohibited from disclosing an information matter to other persons.
- (2) Subsection (1) does not apply if, during the period of the emergency situation, the relevant person has been given a notice under section 8AK.
- (3) In this section—

relevant person means—

 - (a) a person of whom an information requirement was made during the period of the emergency situation; or
 - (b) a person to whom a disclosure notice was given during the period of the emergency situation.

8GA Evacuation areas may be declared 16

- (1) This section applies if, during the period of a 17 terrorist emergency, the TERC commander 18 appointed for the emergency is satisfied on 19 reasonable grounds that the terrorist emergency 20 powers are necessary to manage and control— 21
- (a) the evacuation of persons from a declared 22 area; or 23
- (b) the reception, identification and assessment 24 of persons at a terrorist emergency reception 25 centre established outside a declared area. 26
- (2) The TERC commander may declare 1 or more of 27
the following (each a declared evacuation area) 28 for the terrorist emergency— 29
- (a) a stated area, outside a declared area, in 30
which a terrorist emergency reception centre 31

[s 35]

- has been, or is to be, established for the terrorist emergency;
- (b) if persons evacuate from a declared area to a place other than the terrorist emergency reception centre—a stated area, outside the declared area, that includes the place to which the persons evacuate;
- (c) a stated area that includes the route for the evacuation of persons from a declared area, or a declared evacuation area mentioned in paragraph (b), to the terrorist emergency reception centre;
- (d) a vehicle used to transport persons from a declared area, or a declared evacuation area mentioned in paragraph (b), to the terrorist emergency reception centre and a stated area surrounding the vehicle.
- Examples—*
- a bus with a stated registration number and an area within a stated distance of the bus
 - a stated vessel and an area within a stated distance of the vessel
- (3) A stated area for subsection (2)(a) to (d) must be the smallest area reasonably necessary to effectively manage—
- (a) the evacuation of persons from a declared area or declared evacuation area; or
- (b) the reception, identification and assessment of persons at the terrorist emergency reception centre or other place to which the persons evacuate.
- (4) As soon as practicable after making a declaration under subsection (2), the TERC commander must issue a certificate (a terrorist emergency evacuation certificate) signed by the commander stating—

	(a) each declared evacuation area; and	1
	(b) the date and time the declaration was made.	2
(5)	The TERC commander may at any time change a declared evacuation area by—	3 4
	(a) amending its description on the terrorist emergency evacuation certificate; and	5 6
	(b) noting the date and time of the amendment on the terrorist emergency evacuation certificate.	7 8 9

	79 Electronic application in particular circumstances	13 14
	(1) This section applies in relation to an application to the issuing authority for a preventative detention order or prohibited contact order.	15 16 17
	(2) A police officer may apply for the order by phone, fax, email, videoconferencing, radio or another form of electronic communication if it is reasonably necessary to apply in that way because of—	18 19 20 21 22
	(a) urgent circumstances; or	23
	(b) other special circumstances, including, for example, the police officer’s remote location.	24 25 26
	(3) Before applying for the order in a way mentioned in subsection (2), the applicant must prepare—	27 28
	(a) if the application is for an initial order—the written application required under section 15; or	29 30 31

[s 68]

- (b) if the application is for a final order—the written application required under section 22; or
- (c) if the application is for a prohibited contact order—the written application required under section 32 or 33.
- (4) However, if the application is for an initial order and is made in a way mentioned in subsection (2) because of urgent circumstances—
- (a) the applicant need not comply with subsection (3)(a); but
- (b) if the applicant does not comply with subsection (3)(a), the applicant must, when making the application, state each matter that would be required to be stated if the application were made in writing.
- 79A Oral application for initial order in urgent circumstances
- (1) This section applies in relation to an application to the issuing authority for an initial order.
- (2) A police officer may apply for the order orally in person, and without preparing the written application required under section 15, if it is reasonably necessary to apply in that way because of urgent circumstances.
- (3) In making the application, the police officer must state each matter that would be required to be stated if the application were made in writing.
- 79B Recording of particular applications for initial order
- (1) This section applies in relation to the following applications to the issuing authority for an initial order—

(a)	an application made under section 79 if section 79(4)(b) applies to the applicant;	1 2
(b)	an application made under section 79A.	3
(2)	The issuing authority must—	4
(a)	make an audio or visual recording of the application or direct the applicant to make an audio or visual recording of the application; or	5 6 7 8
(b)	as soon as reasonably practicable after the application has been made, make a written record of the application or direct the applicant to make a written record of the application.	9 10 11 12 13
79C Additional procedure if electronic application		14
If the issuing authority makes an order under section 79, the issuing authority must—		15 16
(a)	if there is a reasonably practicable way of immediately giving a copy of the order to the police officer, including, for example, by sending a copy by fax or email—immediately give a copy of the order to the police officer; or	17 18 19 20 21 22
(b)	otherwise—tell the police officer the terms of the order.	23 24
Clause 69	Amendment of schedule (Dictionary)	25
	Schedule—	26
	insert—	27
	described , by a preventative detention order, means described by either or both of the following—	28 29 30

[s 70]

- (a) a description mentioned in section 17(6)(a)(ii) or 25(7)(a)(ii) that is stated in the order; 1 2
3
- (b) a photo included in the order as an attachment. 4
