Subdivision 2 Content of jury directions about domestic violence	29 30

103Z Content of general direction about domestic violence	1 2
(1) The judge in a criminal proceeding who is directing the jury about domestic violence generally may, if relevant, inform the jury that domestic violence—	3 4 5 6
(a) is not limited to physical abuse and may, for example, include sexual abuse, psychological abuse or financial abuse; and	7 8 9
(b) may amount to violence against a person even though it is immediately directed at another person; and	10 11 12
(c) may consist of a single act; and	13
(d) may consist of separate acts that form part of a pattern of behaviour that can amount to abuse even though some or all of those acts may, when viewed in isolation, appear to be minor or trivial.	14 15 16 17 18
(2) If relevant, the judge may also inform the jury that experience shows that—	19 20
(a) people may react differently to domestic violence and there is no typical response to domestic violence; and	21 22 23
(b) it is not uncommon for a person who has been subjected to domestic violence to stay with an abusive partner after the domestic violence, or to leave and then return to the partner; and	24 25 26 27 28
(d) decisions made by a person subjected to domestic violence about how to address,	33 34

- respond to or avoid domestic violence may 1
be influenced by a variety of factors; and 2
- Note—* 3
- See also section 103ZC in relation to the judge 4
informing the jury about factors that may 5
influence a person’s decision-making about how 6
to address, respond to or avoid domestic violence. 7
- (e) it is not uncommon for a decision to leave 8
an intimate partner who is abusive, or to 9
seek assistance, to increase apprehension 10
about, or the actual risk of, harm. 11

103ZA Direction about self-defence in response to 12
domestic violence 13

- (1) If the judge in a criminal proceeding is directing 14
the jury about self-defence in response to 15
domestic violence, the judge may inform the jury 16
that— 17
- (a) self-defence is, or is likely to be, an issue in 18
the proceeding; and 19
- (b) as a matter of law, evidence of domestic 20
violence may be relevant to determining 21
whether the defendant acted in self-defence; 22
and 23
- (c) evidence in the trial is likely to include 24
evidence of domestic violence committed 25
by the victim against the defendant or 26
another person whom the defendant was 27
defending. 28
- (2) The judge may also inform the jury that, as a 29
matter of law, evidence that the defendant 30
assaulted the victim on a previous occasion does 31
not mean that the defendant could not have been 32
acting in self-defence in relation to the offence 33
charged. 34

103ZB Examples of behaviour, or patterns of behaviour, that may constitute domestic violence	1 2 3
(a) placing or keeping a person in a dependent or subordinate relationship;	10 11
(b) isolating a person from family, friends or other sources of support;	12 13
(c) controlling, regulating or monitoring a person’s day-to-day activities;	14 15
(d) depriving a person of, or restricting a person’s, freedom of movement or action;	16 17
(e) restricting a person’s ability to resist violence;	18 19
(f) frightening, humiliating, degrading or punishing a person, including punishing a person for resisting violence;	20 21 22
(g) compelling a person to engage in unlawful or harmful behaviour.	23 24
103ZC Factors that may influence how a person addresses, responds to or avoids domestic violence	25 26 27
(1) This section applies if the judge in a criminal proceeding who is directing the jury about domestic violence generally informs the jury about the matters mentioned in section 103Z(2)(d).	28 29 30 31 32
(2) The judge may also inform the jury that decisions made by a person subjected to domestic violence,	33 34

	about how to address, respond to or avoid	1
	domestic violence, may be influenced by matters	2
	including, for example—	3
	(a) the domestic violence itself; or	4
	(b) social, cultural, economic or personal	5
	factors, or inequities experienced by the	6
	person, including, for example, inequities	7
	associated with race, poverty, gender,	8
	disability or age; or	9
	(c) responses by family, the community or	10
	agencies to the domestic violence or to any	11
	help-seeking behaviour or use of safety	12
	options by the person; or	13
	(d) the provision of, or failure in the provision	14
	of, safety options that might realistically	15
	have provided ongoing safety to the person,	16
	and the person's perceptions of how	17
	effective those safety options might have	18
	been to prevent further harm; or	19
	(e) further violence, or the threat of further	20
	violence, used by a family member to	21
	prevent, or in retaliation for, any	22
	help-seeking behaviour or use of safety	23
	options by the person.	24
