network or the part of the transmission network mentioned in 14 section 64(a) were an existing connection agreement under 15 section 61— 16
- (a) a connection agreement providing for an entity to be 17
connected to or have access to the transmission network 18 or the part of the transmission network for the project 19 that is in effect immediately before the REZ declaration 20 for the REZ was made; 21
- (b) a connection agreement providing for an entity to be 22
connected to or have access to the transmission network 23 or the part of the transmission network for the project 24 that is entered into within 12 months after the REZ 25 declaration for the REZ was made. 26
- (2) For subsection (1)(b), an application to connect for the 27 transmission network or the part of the transmission network 28 may be made in relation to the declared project, and may be 29 assessed or continue to be assessed, under the National 30 Electricity Rules as if the REZ declaration for the REZ had 31 not been made. 32
- (3) Also, section 63 applies in relation to an entity that may 33 connect to and access the REZ transmission network for the 34

REZ for the declared project under section 61 as applying 1 under this section as if the reference to the opt-in period were 2 a reference to the period of 13 months from when the REZ 3 declaration for the REZ was made. 4

67 Application of ss 62 and 63 in relation to declared project 5

(1) Section 62 applies in relation to a declared project as if each 6 of the following rights relating to a designated network asset 7 that is or is part of the transmission network or the part of the 8

(2) For subsection (1)— 31

(a) a submitted access policy may be dealt with by the AER 32 under the National Electricity Rules as if the REZ 33 declaration for the REZ had not been made; and 34

[s 67]

- (b) an existing access policy or approved access policy for a submitted access policy—
- (i) continues in effect under the National Electricity Rules to the extent necessary to confer or preserve a right mentioned in subsection (1); and
- (ii) is taken to be an existing access policy under section 62 even if it is approved by the AER under the National Electricity Rules after the REZ declaration for the REZ was made; and
- (c) an agreement providing for connection and access to the designated network asset entered into in relation to a right mentioned in subsection (1) is taken to be an existing DNA agreement under section 62 even if it is entered into after the REZ declaration for the REZ was made.
- (3) Also, section 63 applies in relation to an entity that may connect to and access the REZ transmission network for the REZ for the declared project under section 62 as applying under this section as if the reference to the opt-in period were a reference to the following period—
