Use of certain words

27.(1) The words ‘dispute resolution centre’ or the letters ‘DRC’ are not to be used in the name of any centre, organisation, body or group or any other place or establishment, or any part thereof, nor is any centre, organisation, body or group, or any other place or establishment, or any part thereof, to be held out as a dispute resolution centre (whether or not as established under this Act) by the use of the words ‘dispute resolution centre’ or the letters ‘DRC’ or in any other manner—

- (a) unless in either case it is in fact a dispute resolution centre established under this Act; or
- (b) except in either case with the consent of the Minister.

(2) In this section, a reference to—

- (a) the words “dispute resolution centre” includes a reference to those words whether or not they appear consecutively and to words that are substantially the same as those words; and

(3) A person who—

(a) uses or causes to be used the words ‘dispute resolution centre’ or the words ‘DRC’; or

(4) It is a defence to prove that the usage or holding out in question was established before the commencement of this section.

PART 4—MEDIATION

Application

27A.(1) This part, other than the prescribed sections, does not apply in relation to a dispute that is the subject of a referring order.

(2) To remove any doubt, it is declared that the Act that applies to the mediation of a dispute that is the subject of a referring order is the Act under which the referring order is made.

(3) In this section—

“prescribed sections” means—

- this section
- section 28(1), (2), (3) and (4).

Provision of mediation services

28.(1) The director of a dispute resolution centre is responsible for the provision of mediation services, including mediation services necessary to give effect to a referring order, and for the operation and management of the centre.

(2) Each mediation session is to be conducted by 1 or more mediators assigned for the purpose by the director.

(3) If, under a referring order, the director of a dispute resolution centre is appointed as mediator of the dispute referred for mediation, the director may assign 1 or more appropriately qualified mediators to conduct the mediation.

(4) A mediator assigned by the director under subsection (3) is taken to be the mediator appointed for the dispute under the referring order.

(5) No dispute may be accepted for mediation under this Act unless the director consents.

Conduct of mediation sessions

29.(1) The procedure for commencing and conducting a mediation session at a dispute resolution centre is to be as determined by the director.

(2) Mediation sessions are to be conducted with as little formality and technicality, and with as much expedition, as possible.

(3) The rules of evidence do not apply to mediation sessions.

(4) A dispute may not be adjudicated or arbitrated upon at a mediation session.

(5) A mediation session is to be conducted in the absence of the public, but persons who are not parties to a mediation session may be present at or participate in a mediation session with the permission of the director.

Disputes

30.(1) The director of a dispute resolution centre may decide, for the centre, that specified classes of disputes are not to be the subject of mediation sessions, or that specified classes of disputes may be the subject of mediation sessions, but nothing in this subsection limits any other provisions of this Act.

(2) A mediation session may be commenced or continued whether or not the dispute is justiciable before any court, tribunal or body and whether or not the dispute is the subject of any legal proceedings.

(3) For the purposes of this Act, persons may be treated as being in dispute on any matter if they are not in agreement on the matter (whether or not any relevant negotiations are still in progress).

Mediation to be voluntary

31.(1) Attendance at and participation in mediation sessions are voluntary.

(2) A party to a mediation session may withdraw from the mediation session at any time.

(3) Notwithstanding any rule of law or equity, any agreement reached at, or drawn up pursuant to, a mediation session is not enforceable in any court, tribunal or body, unless the parties agree in writing that the agreement is to be enforceable.

(4) Except as expressly provided in this Act, nothing in this Act affects any rights or remedies that a party to a dispute has apart from this Act.

Refusal or termination of mediation

32.(1) The director of a dispute resolution centre may decline to consent to the acceptance of any dispute for mediation under this Act at the centre.

(2) A mediation session may be terminated at any time by the mediator or by the director.

Representation by agent

33.(1) A party to a mediation session is not entitled to be represented by an agent unless—

- (a) it appears to the director that—
 - (i) an agent should be permitted in order to facilitate mediation; and
 - (ii) the agent proposed to be appointed has sufficient knowledge of the matter in dispute to enable the agent to represent the party effectively; and
- (b) the director so approves.

(2) Subsection (1) does not prevent—

Dispute Resolution Centres Act 1990

- (a) where a corporation within the meaning of the Corporations Law is party to a mediation session—an officer of the corporation; or
- (b) where a corporation that is a body corporate constituted under the Building Units and Group Titles Act 1980, is a party to a mediation session—the proprietor or, if there is more than 1 proprietor, 1 of the proprietors, constituting that corporation; or
- (ba) if a corporation that is the body corporate for a community titles scheme under the Body Corporate and Community Management Act 1997 is a party to a mediation session—1 member of the body corporate; or
- (c) where any other corporation is a party to a mediation session—an agent appointed by the corporation;

from representing that corporation.

(3) Where a director approves of the representation of a party by an agent, the approval of the director may be given subject to such conditions as the director considers reasonable to ensure that any other party to the mediation session is not substantially disadvantaged by the agent appearing at the mediation session and, where the director does so, the entitlement of the agent to represent the party is subject to compliance by the agent with those conditions.

(4) Contravention of any provision of this section does not invalidate any mediation session.

PART 5—MISCELLANEOUS

35.(1) No matter or thing done or omitted to be done by—

- (a) the council or a subcommittee of the council; or

- (b) the arrest of a person followed by such a failure; or
- (c) failure to offer evidence at the hearing of a charge referred to in paragraph (a);

if the failure is reasonable—

- (d) by reason of the reference of the dispute to which the alleged offence relates for mediation under this Act or by reason of an agreement reached by the parties to a dispute so referred; and
- (e) in all the circumstances of the case.

(3) In subsection (2)—

“offence” does not include an offence constituted wholly or partly by domestic violence within the meaning of the Domestic Violence (Family Protection) Act 1989.

(4) Nothing in this Act prevents a charge referred to in subsection (2)(a) from being laid or any proceedings so referred to from being instituted or proceeded with, or any evidence being offered in relation to such a charge, or any incidental act, matter or thing from being done by any person at any time.

(5) No person is to be concerned to inquire whether or not any circumstance has arisen requiring or authorising a person to act in the office of a member or of a director, and anything done or omitted to be done by that person while so acting is as valid and effectual and has the same consequences as if it had been done or omitted to be done by that member or director.

Privilege

36.(1) In this section—

(5) A document prepared for the purposes of, or in the course of, or pursuant to, a mediation session, or any copy thereof is not admissible in evidence in any proceedings before any court, tribunal or body.

(6) Subsections (4) and (5) do not apply with respect to any evidence or document—

- (a) where the persons in attendance at, or named during, the mediation session and, in the case of a document, all persons named in the document—consent to admission of the evidence or document; or
- (b) in proceedings instituted with respect to—

has been made pursuant to section 37(2)(c); or

- (ii) an offence under section 37(3) concerning the disclosure of the evidence or document.

(7) This section does not apply in relation to a dispute that is the subject of a referring order.

(8) To remove any doubt, it is declared that the Act that applies to the mediation of a dispute that is the subject of a referring order is the Act under which the referring order is made.

Secrecy

37.(1) A mediator is not competent to commence to discharge the functions of a mediator without first taking an oath before a justice of the peace in or to the effect of the form set out in schedule 1 or making an affirmation in or to the effect of the form set out in schedule 2.

- (e) where the disclosure does not reveal the identity of a person without the consent of the person and is reasonably required for the purposes of research carried out by, or with the approval of, the council or an evaluation pursuant to section 34;

- (f) in accordance with a requirement imposed by or under a law of the State (other than a requirement imposed by a subpoena or other compulsory process) or the Commonwealth.

(3) A person to whom subsection (2) applies who discloses information obtained in connection with the administration or execution of this Act otherwise than as authorised by the subsection commits an offence against this Act.

(4) Despite subsections (2) and (3) a director may, if the director considers it is appropriate in the circumstances, disclose to an agency or court—

- (b) whether an agreement was reached as a result of that process.
