(3) The Industrial Commission is to fix a date, time and place at which it will proceed with a view to making an order under section 21 or 22(1) and, if so required by the Commission, notification thereof—

- (a) is to be published in the Queensland Government Industrial Gazette;
- (b) is to be served on such industrial organisations, other persons, and other organisations as the Industrial Commission directs;

(4) Every such notification must specify a time before which any industrial organisation, other person, or other organisation that claims to be concerned in the making of the order may apply to the industrial registrar for leave to appear and be heard on the matter.

(5) If, upon application made to the industrial registrar before the time specified for the purpose in such notification, the industrial registrar is satisfied that the applicant is, or is likely to be, concerned in the making of the order, the registrar is to grant the leave applied for, but otherwise the registrar is to refuse the leave.

Industrial Commission hearings

24. When dealing with an application under section 21 or 22, the Industrial Commission must act as quickly, and with as little formality and technicality, as is consistent with a fair and proper hearing of the issues.

Leave may be granted by Full Bench

25.(1) Where the industrial registrar refuses an application for leave under section 23 the applicant may, within 7 days after being notified by the registrar of the refusal, require the registrar to refer the matter of the application to a Full Bench of the Industrial Commission and the registrar is to make the reference.

(2) Upon such a reference the Industrial Commission may grant or refuse the application.

(3) A Full Bench of the Industrial Commission may at any time grant to any industrial organisation, other person, or other organisation leave to appear and be heard on the matter of the making of an order under section 21 or 22(1), if it is satisfied that there is good reason for granting the leave, notwithstanding that an application for such leave has not been duly made under section 23 to the industrial registrar.

- (b) having regard to the interests of the industrial organisations, other persons, or other organisations immediately concerned, and of the community as a whole, further proceedings are not necessary or desirable;

the Industrial Commission may dismiss, or refrain from further hearing or determining, an application made for an order under section 21 or 22(1).

28. If there is in force in relation to any premises, or class of premises, an order made under section 21, the occupier of those premises, or of premises of that class, is to cause the premises to be closed so as to comply in all respects with the terms of the order.

- (d) to restrain a breach or the continuance of a breach of an order of a kind referred to in section 21.

(2) The form of notice to a person in relation to an application for an order under subsection (1), and the mode of service of such notice, is in the discretion of the Industrial Commission, which may order substituted service, by advertisement or otherwise, as it thinks fit.

Cancellation of obsolete orders

31.(1) If after such inquiry as the industrial registrar considers sufficient the registrar is of opinion that an Industrial Commission order is obsolete the registrar may publish in the Queensland Government Industrial Gazette notification of an intention to declare the order identified in the notification to be obsolete.

(2) Any industrial organisation, other person, or other organisation may, within the time, and in the manner prescribed, lodge with the industrial registrar notice of objection to the proposed declaration.

(3) The industrial registrar is to refer each such objection to the Industrial Commission, which is to hear and determine the question at issue.

(4) If no objection to a proposed declaration is duly lodged as prescribed, or all objections so lodged are dismissed, the industrial registrar, by notification published in the Queensland Government Industrial Gazette, may declare the order identified in the notification of intention referred to in subsection (1) to be obsolete, whereupon the order is no longer of any force or effect.
