Explanatory Notes for SL 2013 No. 51

made under the
Aboriginal Land Act 1991

General outline

Short title

Aboriginal Land Amendment Regulation (No. 2) 2013.

Authorising law

The regulation amends the Aboriginal Land Regulation 2011 to declare an area of available State land as transferable land.

Section 10(1)(e) of the Aboriginal Land Act 1991 (Act) provides for available State land to be declared by regulation to be transferable land.

Policy objectives and the reasons for them

The regulation amends the Aboriginal Land Regulation 2011 to declare an area of available State land as transferable land.

This area of land is adjacent to Kutini - Payamu (Iron Range) National Park (Cape York Peninsula Aboriginal Land). In 2011 the Queensland Government entered into an indigenous land use agreement and an indigenous management agreement which included provisions for this area to be transferred as Aboriginal land and subsequently included in the Kutini - Payamu (Iron Range) National Park (Cape York Peninsula Aboriginal Land). The park is jointly managed by the Aboriginal traditional owners and the Queensland Government.

Achievement of policy objectives

The Subordinate legislation will achieve its objective by the regulation of the subject land as transferable land to allow for the grant of Aboriginal freehold title to Aboriginal people under the Act.

Consistency with policy objectives of authorising law

The regulation is consistent with the policy objectives of the Aboriginal Land Act 1991, which provides for the grant of land as Aboriginal land.

Inconsistency with policy objectives of other legislation

The regulation is consistent with the policy objectives of other legislation. The regulation will enable subsequent transfer of Aboriginal freehold land under the Aboriginal Land Act 1991 and the Land Act 1994 and dedication of national park (Cape York Peninsula Aboriginal land) under the Nature Conservation Act 1992.

Benefits and costs of implementation

The benefits of the regulation are that it will allow for the grant of land as Aboriginal land.

Implementing the regulation will have negligible costs.

Consistency with fundamental legislative principles

The regulation is consistent with fundamental legislative principles. It complies with relevant requirements of section 5(5) of the Legislative Standards Act 1992, namely it:

- (a) is within the power that, under an Act or subordinate legislation (the authorising law), allows the subordinate legislation to be made; and

- (b) is consistent with the policy objectives of the authorising law; and
- (c) contains only matter appropriate to subordinate legislation; and
- (d) amends statutory instruments only.

Consultation

The Government has consulted extensively with the relevant Aboriginal people, the Cape York Land Council and Balkanu Cape York Development Corporation in relation to the regulation and the subsequent actions under the Cape York Peninsula Tenure Resolution Program. Consultation has also been undertaken with Cook Shire Council. The parties consulted have no objection to the regulation of the land as transferable.
