made under the

Professional Standards Act 2004

General outline

Short title

Professional Standards (Western Australian Bar Association Scheme) Notice 2014.

Authorising law

Section 14(1) of the Professional Standards Act 2004 (the Act) provides for the Minister to give notice of the approval of an 'interstate scheme' under the Act by the appropriate Professional Standards Council for the jurisdiction in which the interstate scheme was prepared.

Policy objectives and the reasons for them

All Australian States and Territories have similar professional standards legislation, which is designed to reduce the cost of, and facilitate the obtaining of professional indemnity insurance for members of an occupational association that has an approved scheme. Each jurisdiction's legislation provides for a Professional Standards Council to approve and monitor schemes. A consequence of a scheme being approved is that occupational liability is restricted to the amount of the monetary ceiling for the scheme.

If an interstate scheme operates, or indicates an intention to operate, as a scheme of Queensland, under section 14 of the Act the Minister must give notice of the appropriate council's approval of the interstate scheme and the notice is subordinate legislation.

The primary objective of this subordinate legislation is to give notice of the approval by the Western Australian Professional Standards Council of the Western Australian Bar Association Scheme (the interstate scheme).

The interstate scheme is designed to limit the occupational liability of members of the Western Australian Bar Association.
